COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—While Dr. John F. ("Jafsie") Condon was undergoing a lashing cross-examination today at the Bruno Richard Hauptmann murder trial, it was disclosed that a note addressed to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and sent to Condon with the baby's sleeping suit, was missing.

Chief Defense Counsel Edward J. Reilly asked Condon where the note was. "Jafsie" replied he left it in his home for Lindbergh to see when he called there while the negotiations were in progress.

"Have you seen it since?" asked Reilly.

"No," replied Condon.

"Do you know where it is now?"

"No," answered the witness.

Says Old Post Office Must Be Purchased

City of New Castle will not receive the federal building in North Mercer street as a gift, according to Alec Thomas, who said that in a talk with a U. S. treasury officer the latter said that if the city got it the government would expect payment.

Thomas pointed out that it would be unreasonable for anyone to imagine that Uncle Sam would hand the post office building to the city for nothing, and that if the citizens hope to get the building for any purpose they must expect to pay for it.

MRS. ALICE PURSELL
LOSES HER LIFE

Lost As Boat Upsets;
Father Rescued

In a river tragedy at Olean, N. Y., Mrs. Alice M. Pursell, 30, a former New Castle woman, and her two sons, Warren, 7, and Bruce, 8, were drowned on Wednesday as they were crossing the Allegheny river in a small boat on their way to school. Mrs. Pursell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mears, of 830 Butler avenue.

According to information received here the tragedy was caused by the high water. Following the recent thaw the river has been high with a fast current. Harold S. Pursell, the father and a friend, Fred Adsit, were taking Mrs. Pursell and the two small boys across the river, the school being located on the opposite side of the river from where the Pursells lived. Mr. Pursell and Mr. Adsit were rescued.

Pursell said he noticed water splashing into the stern of the boat. In an instant the boat filled and began to sink. None of the party could swim, it is said, except the younger boy.

RUM RUNNER WAS SUNK BY MISTAKE

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The United States will accept the decision of the joint Canadian-American commission awarding $25,000 to the Canadian government and $25,666.50 to the captain and crew for the sinking of the rum running schooner "I'm Alone" by an American coast guard cutter's shells in the Gulf of Mexico in March, 1929.

It was also learned at the state department today that this government, in accordance with the commission's recommendation, will formally apologize to Canada for the sinking of the schooner outside territorial waters.

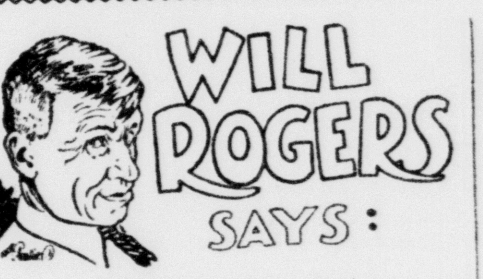

The date of payment is undetermined because it will necessitate a special appropriation by congress. Officials were gratified at the conciliatory manner in which a dispute with Canada over the sinking of a Canadian-registered vessel by an armed American ship was settled.

"Jafsie" Somewhat Flus-

Cross-Examination

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—Dr. John F. Condon, the incomparable "Jafsie" of the Lindbergh case, admitted under a blistering cross-examination today at the Bruno Richard Hauptmann murder trial that, although he saw "John"—the man he had identified as Hauptmann—as late as August, 1934, he made no attempt to capture him.

"Jafsie" was riding on a bus at the time, but he told chief defense counsel Edward J. Reilly, he did not demand that the driver stop the bus. Neither did he yell for anybody to seize the man.

"It was none of my business," was Condon's amazing answer.

Reilly went after "Jafsie" about his failure to try and apprehend "John," the man to whom he had testified he had paid over the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom in St. Raymond's cemetery.

Q—(By Reilly)—Did you ask the bus driver to stop?

A—No.

Q—No effort to capture man?

A—No. I didn't ask the driver to run the man down.

A—No. I couldn't on account of the traffic.

Q—Didn't you yell to any passengers to grab the man?

A—No. It was none of my business.

A surprised murmur ran through the court room at this answer. Reilly quickly demanded in a loud voice:

"You mean to say it was none of your business?"

Jafsie's Past Is Being Dragged Into Trial Today

(International News Service)
COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—Sensation after sensation broke in court today while Dr. John F. ("Jafsie") Condon, the Lindbergh go-between, was undergoing a severe cross-examination at the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the murder of Lindbergh baby.

"Jafsie's" past was dragged out by Chief Defense Counsel Edward J. Reilly who asked him if he wasn't transferred from public school number two in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1902, "because of conduct unbecoming to a gentleman—because of your conduct with a woman teacher?"

"No, sir!" shouted Condon, beginning to look tired under Reilly's merciless examination.

"Relative to the statement by Attorney E. K. Logan of an opinion from an enforcement officer of the State Liquor board concerning the sale of liquor and beer up to midnight and the consumption thereof after midnight, I wish to say that my order 'Bottles off the table at midnight' stands."

This was the reply of Chief of Police John P. Haven today to the opinion of C. E. Smith, enforcement officer of the liquor board, to the local attorney that the midnight "bottles off the table" order cannot be enforced.

"The State Liquor Control board is not a law body. The only thing they can give out is an opinion. Mr. Smith is an enforcement officer. My guess is as good as his," the chief said.

"When I took the oath of office as chief of police I swore to enforce the laws of the commonwealth. I intend to enforce them."

"I do not intend to listen to decisions such as quoted. The city police department is 'going by' the laws made by the legislature."

DECLARES HAVEN

"Bottles Off Tables At Midnight" Order To Be Enforced

"Relative to the statement by Attorney E. K. Logan of an opinion from an enforcement officer of the State Liquor board concerning the sale of liquor and beer up to midnight and the consumption thereof after midnight, I wish to say that my order 'Bottles off the table at midnight' stands."

This was the reply of Chief of Police John P. Haven today to the opinion of C. E. Smith, enforcement officer of the liquor board, to the local attorney that the midnight "bottles off the table" order cannot be enforced.

"The State Liquor Control board is not a law body. The only thing they can give out is an opinion. Mr. Smith is an enforcement officer. My guess is as good as his," the chief said.

"When I took the oath of office as chief of police I swore to enforce the laws of the commonwealth. I intend to enforce them."

STATE'S CASE AGAINST HAUPTMANN IS BEING DEVELOPED STEADILY

tions had Chief Defense Counsel Edward J. Reilly groping for adequate words to frame new questions. Colonel Henry L. Breckenridge, legal adviser and close friend of the victimized father in the case, and a number of police officers were to follow Condon as witnesses.

State Proves

Insofar as introduced evidence goes the state appears virtually to have proven:

1. That the kidnapping and murder of the baby for a chance to collect ransom was not an "inside job," as the defense has attempted to imply.

2. That the credibility of all the main witnesses, including Dr. Condon, is excellent.

3. That none of the Lindbergh "household" nor Dr. Condon, was capable of having "guilty knowledge" of any plot to kidnap Lindbergh and his wife and child.

In addition, the state has demonstrated that its key witnesses, including Anne Morrow Lindbergh, have unanimously agreed that Bruno Hauptmann was guilty of the entire atrocious crime.

She urged the women to place proper women in the legislature in order to make for the betterment of life.

EAST SIDE GARDEN CLUB MEMBERS MEET

What more striking and fitting for a Garden club meeting than a luncheon table beautifully arranged, and this was the outstanding feature of the meeting of the East Side Garden club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Mary Robinson, Cumberland avenue, when 15 members assembled for the buffet luncheon at 1 o'clock.

The artistic centerpiece, the gift of a local florist, was colorful with golden calendulas, lavender Russian statice and white stevia, intermingled with greenery. An appetizing menu completed the luncheon.

At 2 p. m. Mrs. Scott McEntire, program chairman, distributed the program books, which are delightfully festive of the club's nature, with a striking cover designed by Miss Elma Badger.

The year's outline presents a series of most interesting, enlightening and instructive programs. Mrs. Leonard Cramer and Mrs. C. R. Brenner aided Mrs. McEntire in the arrangement.

A display of pines interested the members and brought forth much constructive discussion, each member bringing a specimen. Mrs. Earl McKnight's paper on "Remaking An Old Garden" called forth much commendation. The women answered the roll call with the name of their favorite flower or plant, its origin and meaning.

Mrs. H. O. Sturdevant conducted the business meeting when tentative plans were discussed for the next county meeting, April 4, when the East Side club will act as hostess.

The various committees were named for this, with Mrs. W. R. McKnight, Mrs. Sherman Kitson, Mrs. Bart Richards and Mrs. Edward Alexander on the reception; Mrs. J. Elder Bryan, Mrs. Leonard Cramer, Mrs. Scott McEntire, Mrs. Cecil Potter and Mrs. Louis Garrett, refreshments; Mrs. Earl McKnight, Mrs. Fred Remley, Mrs. Claude Mantz and Elma Badger, decorations; Mrs. H. All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

"DOCTOR, TELL ME THE TRUTH!"

The doctor and I had quite a talk and one of the things I said was: "Doctor, why don't you and the other man in your profession tell their patients the truth? Why do you assume that they can't stand it?"

He looked at me, smilingly, and said: "Sometimes we do. If there's nothing to worry about, we tell them so and that makes them feel much better. But if they are seriously ill and we tell them so and imply that they may die, nine out of ten of them will go to pieces at once and reduce our chances of curing them."

"When I was younger and never had an ache or a pain, myself, I always told my patients the truth. But I learned that the truth isn't the best medicine for most people. . . . I remember I told one man he had a bad heart and should watch himself closely. He thought I was trying to scare him into abandoning alcohol, refused to change his way of living, went deer hunting and dropped dead. His family told me I should have 'warned' him. I told another patient he had a bad heart and it scared him to death. I'd told him that with proper care he might live 15 or 20 years, but he was dead in six months and I've never been able to convince myself my frankness didn't kill him. . . . So you can see the truth isn't the safest medicine we doctors can give."

"The doctor of a generation ago had an easier time than we doctors of today have. He gave a patient a pill and when the sick man asked what it was for he said it was something that would put him to sleep and make him feel better. But the patients I get now want to know just what is in the pill and what it will do to their systems and why I don't give something else instead. . . . All sick people, I believe, want to have faith in their doctors these days, but the emphasis has shifted away from personal influence and trust in the direction of methods and machinery. . . . That's tough on the doctors!"

"Tell me something," said I to the doctor. "If I were sick and in danger of death would you tell me the truth? Am I the kind of person who could stand it?"

"Oh, yes," he said seriously. "I'd tell you the truth."

But there was a funny glint in his eye as he answered me—and now that I think of it, I don't believe he would!

PAST GLORIES CANNOT BE RECONCILED TO LACK OF PRESENT DEEDS

When you begin to slip in any certain line, don't expect that past achievements will enable you to retain a position of prestige.

Laurels you won in your younger days won't make a wreath or a crown to which people will continually pay homage.

A has-been does not get much credit, not even as much as he deserves.

You must keep on achieving, or you are decidedly "out."

Perhaps you have reached the place where you had hoped to ride on a wave of popularity or interest because of what you once were, but if you've nothing else to show, you are on a well-greased decline.

You think you were once a good athlete, but the fellows now care little for that if you are not active at the present.

Try to get that under the skin and you won't feel so disappointed when youth does not listen so eagerly to tales of your past prowess.

To have established a record once may get you a nod or a stare.

The present generation lives in the present.

They have no past and usually are not yet far-sighted enough to think very much of the future.

Certainly, they are not interested in your past accomplishments.

You'll have to enjoy your own past glory.

THE VOW

She vowed for better or for worse,
And to the pledge was true,
But till he faced an empty purse
Her love he never knew.

The early years were blithe and gay
With laughter and with song,
Then trouble came and day by day
Her love continued strong.

Until disaster stormed the place
He never knew that she
So bravely poverty could face
And smile so tenderly.

He knew that she had made a vow
And thought it lightly said,
But knows how much she meant it
Now.

According to the State Liquor Control Board of Pennsylvania there will be a thousand or more less liquor licenses this year than last. The booze business don't seem to be so hot it seems.

A fellow named Phillips joined the party and appeared to be having the time of his life. He was surrounded by a bevy of pretty girls and his repartee was sparking, their smiles alluring.

"He is," came the listless reply. "But she isn't with him tonight."

LITTLE BLOND BEAR
I was reading last night in the living room bright, where wild beasts aren't likely to prowl, when a little blond bear from under my chair emerged with a terrible growl. Like lightning he sprang each little white fang a-thirst, as it seemed, for my nose, and it flashed through my mind he was perfectly naked behind and I was by his little pink claws, and his savage and menacing air, I conquered my fright, arose in my might, and grappled the little blond bear! The uproar we made soon brought to my aid the bravest (and dearest) of mammas, and the little blond bear who gave me a scare was speedily caged in pajamas.—R. B.

Washington At A Glance

The Roosevelt Budget.
It Is Mystery To Many.Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S Street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—For any ordinary individual to try to analyze the Roosevelt administration's budget program is a perfectly hopeless undertaking.

Experts may be able to comprehend it, but I doubt even that. President Roosevelt seems to understand it, and I think he does understand it to this extent:

It appears to me to have been framed with a view to keeping the pot a-boiling, without boiling over, until the end of the 1935-36 fiscal year. By that time the next presidential campaign already will be in its early stages. Presumably the remaining interval before election day will not be long enough for the prestige of the present White House tenant to be seriously impaired, no matter in what direction conditions may be trending by that time.

To this extent, as previously remarked, I believe the president understands his budget program, all right.

"A SEALED BOOK"
So far as I am concerned, I admit that the intricacies of scientific accountancy are a sealed book to me.

Therefore, when President Roosevelt held one of his "press conferences," to discuss his forthcoming budget message, on the eve of its delivery to congress, I tried to draw no conclusions of my own. Instead, when the conference was ended, I consulted a brother newspaper man, who, as Washington correspondent of perhaps the leading financial journal in the country, is a nationally recognized authority on fiscal subjects. I begged him, in all humility, as a personal friend of mine to explain the administration plan to me.

My acquaintance turned to a south window in the National Press club writing room, where we were speaking to gether, and pointed out, toward Washington Monument park and the Mall, with the Potomac beyond (an ice cake floating in it, here and there), and the frozen Virginia hills in the background.

ONE MAN'S VIEW
"You see," said my confidante, "that desolate vista—those bare trees—those patches of snow in the distance?"

"Now, suppose that a couple of hundred of us, all experienced reporters, were gathered here, and suppose that Franklin D. Roosevelt were present, describing this very scene to the party. And suppose he described it as a tropical landscape, sun-kissed and lovely, with carefree natives gamboling underneath nodding palms."

"Sixty per cent of us would be convinced that a tropical landscape was what we were looking at, and the other 40 per cent would suspect, even though we couldn't see it so, that something was the matter with our eyesight, and that a tropical landscape was what it really was."

"Yet you expect me to criticize a budget plan that Franklin D. Roosevelt says is o. k.!"

Jan. 10, 1802—Philip Hamilton, son of the great statesman, was killed in a duel.

It took place on the same spot in New Jersey on which his father, Alexander, was to die in a duel two years later.

Jan. 10, 1812—The first Mississippi steamboat reached New Orleans. It was the New Orleans, built at Pittsburgh by its captain, Nicholas J. Roosevelt, 45 (ancestor of the president), at a cost of $38,000.

Before the initial trip could be made, Capt. Roosevelt, the inventor of a paddle-wheel propulsion, had to arrange for coal mines to be opened at various landings along the river, to insure an adequate supply of fuel.

Jan. 10, 1840—National penny post was established in England.

This was the first country to adopt it. Rowland Hill, 45, who put it into effect, was dismissed from office by a Conservative ministry for doing so!

Previously, postage had been fixed on a mileage basis, as 8c up to 30 miles, 25c over 300 miles, etc., for a single sheet.

Stamps and adhesive envelopes were not developed until years after penny post was instituted.

A MATTER OF BOOKKEEPING?

My friend did mention one item of budgetary economy which, he confessed, puzzled him.

An allowance of approximately $50,000,000 for TVA purposes is eliminated from the scroll of emergency appropriations; hence it is claimed as a reduction in federal expenditures. However, approximately the same sum is provided for in the list of appropriations for permanent improvements. It still is to be a charge against the government, but as a permanency, not as an emergency charge.

"It's a smallish amount," conceded my informant, "but I don't know that it's the only one. I simply happen to have noticed that one, that's all. The total, as it gradually is figured out, may prove to be quite formidable."

"Bookkeeping is a wonderful thing."

"Against the president and his experts, it is not safe to dogmatize off-hand."

DOES IT MEAN INFLATION?
The administration today is dead-set against currency inflation—"printing press money."

Nevertheless, there unmistakably is an undercurrent of apprehension that, after the 1936 election, inflation will be recognized as the only means of meeting federal obligations.

A tremendous boom conceivably, of course, could bring such a flood of money into the treasury as to offset the necessity for a resort to the "printing press" method. It is not the consensus among "sound money" men, however, that a boom either is desirable or likely—except in the event of a major war, which economists certainly do not view as a satisfactory solution of the problem.

Discover Note In Hauptmann Case Is Missing, This Morning

Wilentz spoke up and said, "It's there among the exhibits."

Couldn't Find Note
Reilly wanted it. A search was started. Defense Attorney Lloyd Fisher participated in the search. Half an hour later, during a recess, Fisher charged that the note could not be found. Wilentz, a bit worried, joined in the search.

Condon testified there were two notes in the large discolored envelope containing the sleeping suit. One note, addressed to Lindbergh, is the mysteriously missing missive. The other one was addressed to Condon. Condon identified this note in court and Reilly read it. He laid great stress on one sentence. It was:

"Don't lose the sleeping suit because it will cost $3 to get another." Though Reilly made no comment on this sentence at the time, Fisher said, in the recess, that it was one of the most important points yet scored by the defense.

Condon Hand Witness

Cross-examined this morning, Condon was a hard witness for Reilly. He, however, brought out an interesting point when Condon admitted he did not know the present whereabouts of the box which contained the ransom money. "Jafie" hadn't seen the box since the night he handed it to "John" in the cemetery with $50,000 in it. "Who made the box?" Reilly asked.

Condon said it was made by a wood carver who lived in the Bronx, but he could not remember his name.

"What?" exclaimed Reilly. "I didn't think it important," said "Jafie."

Condon directed the making of the box but he could not recall the date it was built. Directions regarding how the box should be constructed were sent by "John."

Hauptmann Is Stoic

Brought into the court room at 9:49 a. m. Hauptmann found the court room packed, with many women even sitting on the window sills. He took his seat between a state trooper and a deputy sheriff.

"I feel pretty good," he said to a reporter in response to a question. He sat there stoically, staring straight ahead. Asked what he thought of Condon's testimony he muttered:

"That man must be crazy." Justice Thomas P. Trenchard ascended the bench at 10:04 a. m. and court was called to order. After the jury was polled, Dr. Condon was called to the stand.

The court room atmosphere was tense as Edward J. Reilly, chief counsel for the defense, stepped out to cross-examine Condon.

"I think when we adjourned yesterday we were discussing a note found under a rock," Reilly began.

"Yes," replied Condon. Reilly handed Condon a note which the Bronx educator identified as the one he received March 12, 1932.

Q—In response to this note you went to a frankfurter stand and found another note.

A—Yes (identifying the second note).

Q—Now, Doctor, you note that the note under the rock bears no symbol.

A—That is right.

Q—Now describe again the trip from your house to the frankfurter stand.

A—I asked Al Reich (his bodyguard) to go with me after receiving the letter with the symbol, we drove to the front of the frankfurter stand. Reilly asked Attorney General David J. Wilentz for a photograph of the "hot dog" stand.

Q—(Reilly)—How far was the stand from the subway station.

A—About 100 feet.

Describes Meeting.
Reilly asked "Jafie" to describe once more his first meeting with "John" and the events immediately preceding it.

"Will you stick to the points of the compass, please?" Condon ordered his cross-examiner at one point.

Reilly questioned Condon minutely on the relative position of the stand to the subway station.

A—About 100 feet.

There was a question just how far from the refreshment stand, and in what direction from it, the doctor and Reich passed.

"Well, I'll stand here and you tell me which way to turn."

Reilly turned his back on the witness and stood with his left arm extended.

"There, now, swing," commanded Condon.

Reilly pivoted slowly.

"There, whoa!" exclaimed the witness.

"That's it—like that."

Condon directed he saw two automobiles near the stand that night but paid no attention to them.

"I was following instructions," he said. "I was interested only in the note."

He told how, after picking up the note at the stand, he proceeded down the street to Woodlawn cemetery, in accordance with its directions.

Q—(By Reilly)—Woodlawn cemetery is across the street from the hot dog stand.

A—Yes.

Q—How far does Woodlawn cemetery extend down that street.

A—About half a mile.

Q—The cemetery has an iron, spiked fence around it.

A—Yes, a metal fence.

Q—And there are guards in the cemetery.

A—There is a guard.

Q—You saw a guard that night.

A—Yes.

Reilly raised his eyebrows when Condon admitted he saw the guard.

Q—Did you talk to the guard that night?

A—I did.

Q—After talking to "John."

A—After talking to "John."

Q—After "John" had climbed over the nine-foot fence?

A—Yes.

Q—Describe that guard.

A—He is rather stout, of German extraction. His name is Real. That is the way he pronounced it.

Q—The big defense lawyer wanted Condon to tell him how "John" acted when he met him that night.

Q—How did the man you call "John" go over that fence that night?

A—He used two bars with his hand in a "turner" fashion—he was skilled. He was not what you would call a palooka.

Spectators Smile
The spectators smiled at Condon's picturesque language.

Q—(Sarcastically) Well, what did he do when he got up on top of that spike?

A—He came on over.

Reilly went to the jury box, and gesturing with his hands at Condon's direction, described the way "John" went over the fence.

Dr. Condon would interject an emphatic "right" whenever he meant "yes."

Q—When the man went over the fence did the guard whistle or call or summon help?

A—No.

Q—That was rather unusual for one man to be looking through a graveyard fence at another, then for one to climb over the fence wasn't it?

A—(No answer.)

Q—Did you ever try it?

A—I was never in a graveyard at night.

Justice Trenchard severely reprimanded the spectators after the outburst of laughter which followed this answer.

Q—Didn't the guard think it unusual?

A—No.

Q—Was he in your confidence?

A—No.

Q—He saw one man climbing the fence, another outside the fence, but he gave no alarm?

A—No.

Q—The man jumped off the fence and ran away?

A—Yes.

Q—Any automobiles near there?

A—No.

Q—Did Al Reich go after him.

A—No. He was under my orders to stay where he was.

Q—How far did the man run.

A—100 yards.

Caught Up To Him
Q—And you stopped up with him.

A—Yes. He stopped. I took him to the left arm and escorted him to a little shack in Van Cortlandt park.

Q—Did you know the shack was there before that night.

A—Oh, yes.

Q—Condon said he "took the man by the coat" when he escorted him to the little shack.

"Jafie" identified a picture of the shack. He said there was a bench outside the shack.

"I adjusted that bench that night to see if anybody was around the shack," Condon said.

Q—(By Reilly)—And you say the man's collar was turned up and he was not wearing a heavy coat and he coughed.

A—Yes.

Q—Did you advise him to get some medicine.

A—I told him I'd go to a drug-store with him and get some medicine.

Q—Did you go.

A—No.

Q—Show us how the man's coat collar was turned up.

Dr. Condon gravely turned up the collar of his coat, pulling his gray head far down into it.

Reilly then asked Condon to describe the man's hat. Condon said it was a Fedora.

Q—Will you take this hat (handing the witness a brown hat) and put it on.

A—I'll take it, but I won't put it on.

Again laughter broke out. Condon said the hat Reilly gave him resembled "John's" hat.

Condon denied he ever told anybody "John" was a Scandinavian.

Q—While you were on the bench could you see Al Reich.

A—No, but I could see the car, 175 feet away.

Reilly asked what happened after Condon came back to the car, after talking to "John" for more than an hour.

"I asked Reich to drive me home," he said.

A—Did you do anything next day.

A—Yes. I went to church. It was Sunday.

Q—I mean about the case, doctor.

A—I believe I did.

Identifies Envelope
Condon was shown a large, brown, discolored envelope. The witness identified it as the envelope which contained the baby's sleeping suit which "John" sent to him to prove he was dealing with the right party.

"I received it around the 17th of March," said Condon. "I always go to parades—that's how I remember."

Q—What station was that envelope mailed from.

A—(After a long scrutiny of the stained envelope)—I cannot make that out.

Handed another note he identified it as one he received at the same time he received the sleeping suit.

"Two notes were wrapped inside the sleeping suit. This is one of them," he said.

One of the notes in the sleeping suit was addressed to Colonel Lindbergh, Condon said. He explained he telephoned Lindbergh and told him he had received the baby's sleeping suit.

Q—Have you any independent recollection of the contents of the note?

A—What do you mean?

Q—I showed you one note. Do you remember the contents of the other?

A—The other note was addressed to Colonel Lindbergh. I don't recall what was in it—If you let me see it.

Q—That's just it. I want to know where it is.

suit on the piano in my home for Colonel Lindbergh to see.

Q—Have you ever seen it since?

A—No.

Q—Do you know where it is now.

A—No.

Q—I ask the attorney general for it now.

A—By Atty. General David T. Wilentz.—It's among the exhibits there.

Justice Trenchard, at this juncture, interrupted to question Condon about the note to Colonel Lindbergh.

While Lloyd Fisher of defense counsel was going through the stack of state exhibits, Reilly resumed his questioning of Condon.

He held up the sleeping suit for Condon to identify. As Reilly started to walk away, with the sleeping suit, Condon suddenly asked:

"May I see that please?"

"What?"

"That?"—pointing at the suit.—"I haven't seen it."

The gray-haired teacher took the sleeping suit and spread it on his lap. He put on his glasses and studied it minutely. He held it up to the light and ran the tip of his fingers as though to judge the material.

When he finished this odd procedure he handed the garment back to Reilly.

Q—Have you ever seen a baby being dressed?

A—No. I have not.

Identifies Letter
Condon was then asked to describe the wrapping of the sleeping suit. He said the garment has come bundled in heavy Manila paper.

He identified another letter, postmarked March 19, a letter which had come after the sleeping suit.

Reilly asked Condon if he had ever seen one of those sleeping suits on a child.

"Jafie" wanted to know what the lawyer meant.

"Did you ever go to a house and see little Andrew or little Michael in one of these suits?" inquired Reilly.

"No, never," replied Condon.

Q—Do you know where the wrapping paper on the envelope which contained the sleeping suit came from?

A—I do not.

Reilly referred to a letter Condon received on March 19, 1932. He asked Condon what he did after receiving this letter and "Jafie" replied:

"On that day. Remember that, please."

Reilly ignored this answer. He was at the prosecution table where he was picking up two more notes.

"Here's a note postmarked April 2, 1932."

"I received that on or about April 2, 1932."

Q—Did you acquaint Colonel Lindbergh with that letter?

A—I asked Colonel Breckenridge to do so. He was staying at my home at that time.

Reilly read the note which was the one in which the kidnaper said to "Be ready for action" the next day—Saturday—and have the money ready.

Q—And you had the money ready the next day.

A—Yes.

"How many people in your group," Reilly asked.

Condon became indignant.

"What do you mean group?" he shouted.

"I mean," said Reilly, "Colonel Lindbergh, Colonel Breckenridge and you. How many in your group knew the contents of this letter?"

"Just the three of us."

Q—Al Reich didn't know.

A—He did not.

Again Condon and Reilly were roaring at each other.

Asks About Box
Reilly wanted to know all about the box which was built for the ransom money to be taken to "John" in St. Raymond's cemetery.

Q—You had this box made.

A—Yes, I planned it from a diagram based on the instructions given in the letter.

Q—Who made the box.

A—A wood carver of Webster avenue, near 198th street.

Q—What was his name.

A—I don't remember.

Q—What!

A—I don't remember.

Q—You can remember everybody else about this case but you can't remember who made the box.

A—You don't need to shout at me. I can hear you if you just speak with your lips. Mr. Reilly.

"Jafie" couldn't remember the date the box was made, either. He didn't recall whether the box had been seen since it was given to "John" with the $50,000 in it.

Q—What was the date on which this box was made.

A—I don't remember.

Q—Has the box ever been seen since it was handed over.

A—I don't know.

Q—Then I must know more about this box. Refresh your memory. Now, can't you recall the name of the wood carver who made that box.

A—No. I didn't consider that important.

Reilly and Condon were shouting at each other, staring straight into each other's eyes. Reilly demanded a minute description of the box.

"What was the box made of."

A—White wood. I mixed it with other kinds of wood until I got the kind of a box I wanted.

Q—What was that.

A—It was in layers. It was fine plywood.

Q—How long was it.

A—It was 6x7x14. (Six by seven by fourteen).

Condon insisted in holding his hands apart to show the measurements.

A—Did you ever go back to look for that box at St. Raymond's cemetery.

A—Yes, I heard that there was a freshly dug grave.

(Wilentz cut off Condon's reply.)

At this point a five minute recess was ordered.

your business? None of your business to grab this man to whom you paid over $50,000? You made no outcry?"

"I did make an outcry."

Q—Did you stop the bus and get off?

A—No.

Q—And where did Hauptmann go.

A—He ran into the woods of Pelham Bay park.

Condon was rather flustered for the first time in the blistering cross examination.

Reilly then asked if he knew an investigator, the late Val O'Farrell.

"Jafie" said he didn't know him.

Q—Do you know a Mrs. Day?

A—No.

Q—Do you know a Captain Eals?

A—Yes. He lives around Curry-hunk. I knew him from City Island.

Q—Did you know a Mr. Peacock?

A—She was a tenant of mine at City Island.

Q—Did you ever tell anybody that Lindbergh gave them on City Island.

A—No sir.

Receiving Letters?
Q—Did you ever tell any one you were receiving mail from the kidnapers on City Island.

A—No.

Reilly handed Condon a letter and asked if he had ever received it.

"Yes," the witness replied.

"Did it come during the ransom negotiations?"

"I don't recall."

The letter was marked for identification and then Condon identified another letter as one which had been sent to him.

WINDS MAY CHASE BLANKET OF FOG

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Flood menace from swollen rivers and fog, twin offspring of a January thaw, continued along the north Atlantic coast today.

Weather officials predicted fresh easterly winds to dissipate the murky blanket which engulfed the coastline since Sunday, causing marine accidents, resulting in two sea rescues.

The trawler Plymouth with 17 men aboard, her engines disabled, was picked up by the coastguard cutter Mojave about 250 miles east by south of Boston light.

The Chatham fishermen, Albert Young, 45, and Charles Peters, 40, lost in a fog in their 25 foot power dory, were rescued by the steamship Missouri two miles east of Pollock rip lightship.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women who suffered from constipation. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel, made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets at night for a week and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets—now and then—to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Eleven Of Jury In Pottsville Trial Seated

Hope To Secure Twelfth
Juror Today In Kelayres
Massacre Case

(International News Service)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Eleven jurors had been selected today at the conclusion of the morning session in the trial of Joseph J. Bruno, Kline township Republican leader, on a charge of murder growing out of the election eve slayings of five men at Kelayres.

Three jurors were selected this morning from the special panel of 50 summoned by Sheriff T. V. Evans when the original venire of 119 talesmen was exhausted yesterday with only eight jurors in the box.

The ninth juror was Roy Stevenson, 38, of St. Clair, a railroad worker, the sixth of the special panel examined. Juror No. 10 was Stephen Jones, 35, of Shenandoah, a laborer, and juror No. 11 was Samuel Sotak, 27, an automobile mechanic, of Coaldale. All are married.

Twenty three of the special panel were examined before the morning session ended. It was indicated the twelfth juror will be selected this afternoon.

Ex-Servicemen May Get Restored Right

Effort Will Be Made To Have Action Taken In Legislature

An effort will be made in the present session of the General Assembly to restore the rights of ex-servicemen in examinations for city firemen, according to J. Guy Griffith, prominent American Legionnaire, who was in New Castle Wednesday night. Mr. Griffith was here for the purpose of aiding ex-servicemen whose state bonuses have not yet been paid.

"It has always been an accepted principle that men or women who served the country in times of war were given some slight advantage in public service," said Mr. Griffith. "Pennsylvania has always done this, but the 1933 session of the General Assembly wiped out all advantages of ex-service men. As the law now is, any man over 35 cannot take the examination and the percentage allowed for service is also eliminated.

"We expect to have an act presented restoring the percentage grant and also allowing six or seven years leeway in the case of service men who apply."

Mr. Griffith has been prominent in Legion affairs since the organization of it. He is well known among the Legion men here, and following his bonus activities in the Legion Home last night there was a reception for him.

Wimer Holds Up Dance Tax Refunds

City Controller Awaits Formal
Opinion From City Solicitor On Measure

Pending a formal opinion from Solicitor Robert White, Controller Earl Wimer has refused to approve payment of refunds to proprietors of places in which beer and liquor are sold and dancing permitted.

Wimer asked White, he stated, to provide him with an opinion as to whether or not the police department could legally recommend a refund from an appropriation for general revenue. Several proprietors already have sought and been refused a refund.

Council adopted a law some time ago placing a fee of $1.00 for each day dancing was allowed in any place. However, the ordinance was written in such a way that the city, upon the police department's recommendation, could recommend to council that all of the money, excepting $3.00 a month can be refunded, providing such places are operated in an orderly manner.

In his last report, Chief of Police John F. Haven, reported that all the places had been operated in an orderly manner and recommended a refund. Council concurred in the recommendation authorized the payments and it was expected the refunds would be made. However, events have turned out otherwise and the proprietors are yet without the refund.

When a News reporter conversed with the solicitor today, White said that the refund authorized is legal. Wimer said to a News reporter it was not his intention to force the full payment of $1.00 for each day dancing is allowed but instead, he wants to protect himself against any probability of surcharge.

The ordinance was aimed it is said at places wherein there was disorder and if such occurred the police could use the ordinance as a punitive measure.

Chicago Attorney Is Being Accused Of Aiding Gunman

Claim Attorney Aided Late John Dillinger To Get Facial And Harbored Him

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Arthur W. O'Leary today in federal court was to conclude his dramatic testimony accusing attorney Louis Piquett, former city prosecutor, of having arranged the surgical face lifting operation to disguise the late John Dillinger.

Piquett is on trial before federal Judge William H. Holly on a charge of harboring and protecting his notorious client following Dillinger's wooden gun escape from the county jail at Crown Point, Ind., the last March 3.

The testimony of O'Leary, former investigator for Piquett, accused the lawyer-defendant of arranging for the hideout where the operation was performed "at the home of James Probusco and engaging the physicians."

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 79,200 Feet of Kidney Tubes Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestine, yet the kidneys contain nearly 10 million tiny tubes which would measure 79,200 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch the kidneys as the bowels. Kidneys are waste of the acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass 2 pints a day thru the bladder which contains nearly 4 pounds amount, your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes are clogged with poisonous waste. This is the danger signal and marks the beginning of kidney trouble. Get it right now, before it gets worse. Get it right now, before it gets worse. Get it right now, before it gets worse.

Kidneys should be watched closely and need cleaning out the same as bowels. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out your 79,200 feet of kidney tubes.

Don't take chances with strong drugs and so-called "kidney cures" which claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense will tell you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS, the old reliable relief that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

No More Piles

Doctor's Prescription Guaranteed

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

This is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give lasting relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause. External treatments can't do this—an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the affected parts.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if not fully satisfied with the help one bottle gives.

Valley Of The Saar Gets World's Interest

Tiny in area but large in the world's eye at the present time, the little valley of the Saar will be the focal point for the civilized nations on January 13 when a plebiscite will be taken to determine whether this district shall revert to Germany, to France or shall remain under the protectorate of the League of Nations.

In actual size the Saar measures but 784 square miles, and containing slightly more than 800,000 people. Its history goes back to the feudal days when barons ruled the lands and the people were vassals. Back as early as 1680 the Saar was French territory, under Louis the Fourteenth. He it was who founded the city of Saarbrücken and had his great engineer Vauban construct a mammoth fort for the protection of the city. France held it until 1697 lost it and regained it about a century later.

Ceded To France
Following the first defeat of Napoleon, the Treaty of Paris in 1814 ceded the Saar to France, but the next year following Napoleon's return and his defeat at Waterloo, Prussia claimed the territory and it was awarded to them. It was German until the Treaty of Versailles in 1919 when it became a matter of dispute.

Germany had ruined the French coal mines of Department Nord and Department pas de Calais and claimed not only Alsace-Lorraine where iron ore is found but the Saar where coal abounds. President Woodrow Wilson refused to agree to this whereupon Premier Clemenceau claimed a petition of 150,000 local Frenchmen in the Saar asking their return to France.

Impressed by this petition which he did not see, and which probably was a piece of strategic bluffing upon the part of Clemenceau, Wilson agreed to a compromise whereby the Saar would be put under the protection of the League of Nations for 15 years, during which time France was to own the coal mines as reparations for the damage to their mines by the Germans.

At the end of that time a plebiscite was to be taken in which the Saarlanders would express their preference as to their national outcome. This is the plebiscite which will be held Sunday, January 13, and in which Dr. James K. Pollock, of New Castle, and Ann Arbor, Mich., is acting as a district president.

If the vote is in favor of a return to Germany, the League of Nations has the power to declare the Saar

German territory and Germany will then have to pay in gold to France, the appraised value of the coal mines in the Saar.

If the vote is in favor of the French, which is unlikely, the Saar will become French territory. The third alternative is that the Saar elects to remain under the protection of the League of Nations.

A "big" farmer isn't physically big. The adjective refers to the size of his mortgage.

McAFEE IS HEARD BY KIWANIS CLUB

Plant President, In Luncheon
Talk, Reviews Work Of Conferences

W. Keith McAfee, president of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company, reviewed the significant discussions of two of America's recent industrial conferences before the weekly luncheon-meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Castleton on Wednesday.

The one was the widely-publicized Congress of American Industry held in New York, and the other was the assembly of the nation's business men at White Sulphur Springs. Mr. McAfee attended the New York conference and followed closely the proceedings of the White Sulphur Springs meeting.

After announcement was made yesterday that a community welfare conference will be held here on Wednesday, January 23, opening in the afternoon and continuing through until evening the Kiwanians voted to cancel their luncheon that day and to join in the welfare program dinner at night at the First Christian church. The matter was presented by G. S. Bennett, chairman of the conference arrangements.

Two new Junior Kiwanians were welcomed by the club as successors to John Thomas and Robert Miner, who for three months have attended club affairs. The new junior members are Lawrence Bennett and Robert Brown, named by Principal F. L. Orth of Senior high school. The junior movement has been sponsored now for two years.

BLIND FOLKS HEAR NOVEL AT LIBRARY

A group of blind people and their guides gathered at the New Castle public library Wednesday afternoon and heard the first installment of the novel, "The Diary of a Provincial Lady." Four of those present heard the library's "talking book" for the first time.

Miss Alice Sterling, librarian,

says that another "talking book" recital will take place next Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 and that all blind people are welcome. Since the plot is not emphasized in the present novel those who missed the first installment will find just as much interest by attending the second.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. January 9, four arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 2, and violation of parking ordinance, 2.

There is an ordinance on the city books that may cut a figure in the municipal elections this year. It provides that officers and employees whose tenure are not fixed by state law can continue to serve indefinitely unless they misbehave. It is reported that some persons who have hopes of plucking plums in the shape of municipal jobs will ask candidates for whom they hustle to do away with the ordinance, if they are successful in getting office.

Bad driving conditions prevail here now and according to Chief of Police John Haven, there are three ways in which motorists can help to minimize auto accidents. They are as follows: "Regulate your speed to fit traffic conditions. Keep your car under control at all times. Obey traffic signals." In issuing a tip to pedestrians, the chief advised: "Cross at proper crosswalks. Obey the traffic lights."

Grading of Ralph avenue, located in both New Castle and Shenango townships has started. However, not all of the property-owners in the township have agreed to waive claims for damages. Probabilities are they will. The RWD will furnish all the labor and the city will provide the necessary material for the job.

Reports are current that North Mercer street may be given a coat of amiesite from Sheridan avenue north to Englewood avenue. Several months ago council was asked to improve the thoroughfare. A petition asking for the improvement is now being passed, it has been learned.

It is anticipated that when council convenes Friday in city hall there will be a bill introduced relative to street improvements. It is reported that when abutting property-owners want streets improved with amiesite and curb placed they will be asked to help pay for it.

No Exercise or Diet, But Fat Slipped Away

It was so easy—I did not go on a diet. I took no exercise. I did not weaken my body with drastic purgatives. Yet fat slipped away. Each day I felt myself growing lighter, more slender. Now my figure is lovely, graceful. And I never felt better in my life.

That, in brief, is what thousands who have reduced the Marmola way might well tell you. Four times a day they take a little tablet containing the right quantity of a world-famous corrective for abnormal obesity. —A corrective prescribed by physicians everywhere and acknowledged to be the most effective known.

Since 1907, more than 20 million packages of Marmola have been purchased. Could any better recommendation be had?

Today—buy a package of Marmola, and start at once. Start when you will experience Marmola's benefits. When you have gone far enough, stop taking Marmola. And you will bless the day you first discovered this marvelous reducing agent!

Marmola is on sale by dealers everywhere—from coast to coast.

They came looking for gold
... but they found tobacco

... and tobacco has been like gold ever since!

The tobacco raised in Virginia and exchanged for goods helped the struggling colonists to get a foothold when they came to America.

Later on, it was tobacco that helped to clothe and feed Washington's brave army at Valley Forge.

Today it is tobacco that helps—more than any other commodity raised in this country—to pay the expense of running our Government.

In the fiscal year 1933-34 the Federal Government collected $425,000,000 from the tax on tobacco. Most of this came from cigarettes—six cents tax on every package of twenty.

Yes, the cigarette helps a lot—and it certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Smokers have several reasons for liking Chesterfields. For one thing, Chesterfields are milder. For another thing, they taste better. They Satisfy.

World's Checker Title Match Soon

(International News Service)
SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 10.—A leisurely no time-limit "world series" for the checker championship of this speed-dizzy hemisphere is forecast by Bernard J. McGory of Sandusky, president of the American Checker Association.

McGory says attempts are being made to bring together soon, in this country, Asa W. Long of Toledo, O., recent winner of the three-move-restriction checker championship from Newell W. Banks of Detroit, and Charles W. Stuart of Edinburgh, Scotland, world's old-line titleholder.

What American city will get the proposed title series depends on the club offering the most money for the attraction, because Stuart's expenses must be paid and a suitable purse be hung up.

McGory predicts the meet would draw at least 10,000 checker enthusiasts for from one to several days each. Play probably would run for two weeks.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful cough remedy, far better than anything you

SAAR IS QUIET AS ELECTION DAY NEARS

Demonstrations Are Prohibited

League May Postpone Vote If Any Disturbances Are Developed

DIPLOMATS ARRIVE TO WATCH ELECTION

(International News Service)
SAARBRUECKEN, Saar Territory, Jan. 10.—With public demonstrations and hallyhoo forbidden beginning today, the Saar approached Sunday's plebiscite with all factions waging a bitter "whispering campaign" whose surface calm belied the nervousness underneath.
Commanders of the international army of 3500 kept all available forces at their stations to prevent pen-up feelings from bursting out into disorders.
The outstanding complaint of pro-Germans today was the revelation that the bulk of the troops and police had been moved over towards the German frontier of the Saar.
Propaganda, otherwise restricted to word-of-mouth, found its most powerful outlet in the partisan press. Socialist, Communist and Catholic newspapers, favoring continuation under the rule of the League of Nations, hammered away with allegations of Nazi terrorism, complaining that 200 persons have been executed under Hitler.

May Postpone Vote
Geneva, Jan. 10.—If there are any serious disturbances during the Saar plebiscite Sunday, the League of Nations council may step in, interrupt the voting, and postpone the referendum for several weeks until more troops can be called in.
This was learned by International News Service today as grave-countenanced diplomats began arriving today for tomorrow's council meeting to watch over the plebiscite.
"We are determined to stand no nonsense in the Saar," one high league official said.

Fast Talking.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

CONGRESS will give President Roosevelt a lump sum, a considerable lump of four thousand million dollars, to let him change from the system of dolts and imitations jobs, "picking up leaves and pieces of paper," to real jobs and useful work.

WE HAVE no monopoly of the handing out money system in America.

The British government assumes responsibility for the care and maintenance of every able-bodied wage worker, insured or not insured, whose wages, when he works, are less than twenty-five dollars a week.

Seventeen million British wage earners will get enough pay from the government, in cash, to bring their incomes up to a "living standard" and idle workers will receive from the government cash on which to live, as a matter of right and decency, with no "charity stigma."

THE AMERICAN system undergoes a considerable change. Once the little boy was encouraged to stoop down, pick up a pin, get a job from the great businessman, marry the daughter, own the firm, pile up millions of his own.

Now, if he does that he is "over-privileged," and must expect to have his money taken away from him. Instead of picking up pins, he is encouraged to wait until he can pick up an easy job on the theory that the world owes him a living, and he doesn't owe anybody anything.

That may develop a better race of Americans, and it may not develop a better race. The days of "pin-picker-up" today, head of the firm next year, are ended.

A DAY is coming when no man will do any work harder than pressing a button, and science, incidentally, will make crime obsolete.

For instance, the Joliet, Ill., jailer sent a fat "trusty" outdoors for a cigar, and the automatic "electric eye" at the gate saw him, flashed a light, and the innocent fat "trusty" was searched. A small metal shoe-horn was found in his big loose shoe.

The electric eye flashes when anybody, passing the gate, has any sort of metal in his possession. No prisoner's friend hereafter can take in a pistol, file or steel saw.

WHAT WILL happen in evolution when the hardest work will be button-pushing, all manual labor being done by machinery, man needing only a brain, no muscle?

Will women remain big in size to reproduce the race, and men dwindle until they resemble the male "parasite crab"? When you capture a "parasite crab" in deep sea water it is always a female.

You will find her husband under one of her flippers, where she keeps him, and nourishes him.

That might happen to men—things as strange have happened. The little tree shrew is the ancestor of the whale, ninety feet long, and it might work the other way.

HOW RAPIDLY do you talk? Very deliberate peasants, slow in thought, speak as slowly as thirty to forty words a minute, with a vocabulary of fewer than five hundred words. Some talk normally at an average rate of two hundred and twenty words a minute, and will tell you that their wives can out-talk them.

An official court reporter at the Hauptmann trial says the proceedings have averaged one hundred and eighty words a minute, fastest record in American criminal court records.

When Betty Gow was on the stand the speed went up to two hundred and fifty words a minute. That was not very fast for a young Scotch woman, angered by questions of the defense.

THE LONDON Daily Herald reports that forty young Manchukuoans between sixteen and seventeen years of age were executed in Harbin for "plotting against Japan." To inspire terror the forty were executed in public.

To such executions, performed in China usually with a heavy sword that chops off heads, the victims submit meekly, kneeling down, not shackled, awaiting their turn. Nothing exciting about public executions of that kind. In ancient days, when the condemned were sometimes saved in two lengthwise, it was different.

RIOTS in Mexico, five shot in attacks by students on the anti-Catholic Mexican "Red Shirts" that recently attacked and unarmed men and women in church. Other rioting and shooting indicate a disturbed condition. The whole world is unsettled. Here, at least, we let religion alone, religion does not meddle with the state, and, as yet, there is no shooting.

BRICKLAYERS TO ENJOY BANQUET

In the clubrooms of the Tigers club, South Mill street, bricklayers and masons of Lawrence county will enjoy their annual banquet at 8 o'clock this evening.

The principal speakers of the evening include: Mayor Charles B. Mayne and W. Leslie Wilson, executive of the RWD at New Castle. The fete is open to any bricklayer or mason in the county regardless of union affiliations.

DONATE BOOKS

Gifts of books were received at city public library in December from Zella Miller, Mrs. Ella Morrow, N. K. Reid, F. L. Runkle and the Department of Internal Affairs.

On Court House Hill

J. Rowland Moore, of Pulaski township has furnished bond in the sum of $1250, as tax collector for the township.

The board of appeals will sit on Monday, January 14 for Taylor, Union, Washington, Wayne and Slippery Rock townships. This will complete the sittings for the boroughs and townships.

On the traverse jury summoned for the trial of common pleas cases beginning next Monday there are 15 women and 45 men. The women are all classed as housekeepers. Among the other occupational designations are fifteen laborers, six carpenters, four millworkers, four carpenters, one druggist, one welder, one potter, one musician, one mason, two salesmen and one retired.

There is considerable sentiment in favor of the county commissioners purchasing more land for the county home. At present there is only about twenty-four acres, and with 175 inmates of the county home, it is believed that many of them could be profitably employed in gardening. Last year 750 bushels of potatoes were raised, and considerable other garden products and small fruit, such as strawberries and raspberries. Many of the men who are now in the home are able to work, if the county had anything to put them at. More land would be a solution that would be self liquidating.

While no old age pensions have yet been secured through the trustees of the Mothers Assistance board, some of the investigations have been completed, and the indications are that applicants will receive pensions here as soon as any others in the state. Members of the board are making personal investigations of the applicants. They do not receive any compensation for their time and labor. When it is considered that there are over thirteen hundred applications on file at the Lawrence county office it will be seen that the ladies have a big job on their hands.

County Controller R. C. McCaslin is making up a budget which will be presented to the county commissioners, and upon which they will estimate the amount of money needed to run the county for the year 1935. In making up the budget Mr. McCaslin is guided largely by the amount which was necessary in 1934. The amount for different years varies somewhat and more especially in the poor department, which has been heavily taxed in taking care of those who are being furnished relief. The amount necessary for taking care of prisoners in penal institutions and in hospitals, is another big item, as well as the amounts which will be needed for roads and bridges. After the commissioners have the estimates laid before them they will be able to figure out the tax levy for next year. An effort will be made to hold it down to the lowest amount possible.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has completed a court calendar for the year 1935. It shows that return days will be on the first Monday of each month, with the exception of September, when return day will fall on the second Monday.

Common pleas court terms will begin on Mondays as follows: January 14; February 21; February 11 and 18; April 1, 8 and 22; October 7 and 14, and November 12.

Grand juries will meet on Monday, March 4, June 3, September 9 and December 2.

Quarter sessions court will convene on Monday, March 11 and 18;

June 10 and 17; September 16 and 23, and December 9 and 16.

Return days to the supreme court will fall on March 18 and October 7; to the superior court, April 15.

The last days for filing accounts, common pleas and register of wills and widows appraisements, to March term, February 2; to June term, May 4; to September term, August 10 and to December term, November 2.

Naturalization court will be held on May 27 and 28 and on November 25 and 26.

Surety of the peace and desertion and non-support cases will be heard on March 8, June 7, September 13 and December 6.

Argument court will be held during the first week of each term and on first Monday of each intermediate month, except July and August.

estate will fall on January 10, February 7, March 7, April 11, May 9, June 6, July 11, August 15, September 12, October 10, November 7 and December 12.

Personal to Women!

END PERIODIC MISERY!

Regulate Normal Functions This New, Quick, Natural Way

Kelpamalt's NATURAL IODINE
And Vital Minerals Often Bring Amazing Relief from Weakness, Pain and Irregularities, When All Else Fails!

Thousands of weak, rundown women all over the country who suffer periodic misery, cramps, weakness and irregularity of normal functions are finding wonderful relief with Kelpamalt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea. One woman writes: "I want to tell you of the benefit I have received from Kelpamalt, for I am now sure about it. For 11 years I have suffered abnormal periods—sometimes even hemorrhages—caused by a strain. After I began using Kelpamalt I noticed a change. After my second experience, it caused me to wonder if Kelpamalt was not causing the lessening of my trouble. Now after my third experience with Kelpamalt, I have seen such a marked change in me that I am sure that Kelpamalt serves all the credit. I am so thankful for the benefit. It means so much to me. And if this letter will result in any benefit to other suffering women, I will be happy for you to use it."—Mrs. G. S. Skowhegan, Me.

Kelpamalt gets right to the cause of troubles of this sort. For years specialists have known of the vital importance of iodine in the relief of female disorders. It has been found that an adequate supply of iodine is necessary for the proper functioning of the thyroid, ovaries, the uterus and other vital glands. All women require generous quantities of iodine and other minerals to make up the monthly loss. Adolescent girls and adults during the menopause especially require iodine in excess of the normal daily intake. Indeed, continued iodine deficiency may lead to a host of serious ailments.

Kelpamalt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea, is the richest known source of assimilable iodine—NATURAL PLANT IODINE (the same that is found in small quantities in spinach and other vegetables), not the common chemical form of iodine which often proves toxic. Kelpamalt is 1300 times richer in NATURAL IODINE than oysters, hitherto considered the best source. Six tablets contain more of this iodine than 486 lbs. of spinach.

This precious substance, together with Kelpamalt's other vital essential natural minerals, combine to bring about a remineralization of the female organs, making possible normal, natural, easy glandular function. With this relief from periodic misery comes new strength, health and vitality.

Start Kelpamalt today. It is unlike anything you have ever used. It leaves no injurious after-effects and has already given glorious relief to thousands of distressed women. Costs but a few cents a day to use. Get it today.

Chicago Police Question Suspect In 1929 Massacre

Believe Bryon Bolton, 36, Gave "Signal" That Started Massacre Of Seven Men

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Hunted for nearly six years as the suspected "finger man" in the St. Valentine's day massacre of seven gangsters here in 1929, Bryon Bolton, 36 years old, was questioned at length today by federal investigators and police.

Bolton was captured Tuesday night by federal raiders who trapped and shot to death Russell Gibson, member of the Alvin Karpis-"Doc" Barker gang, and a suspect in the $200,000 Edward Bremer kidnapping. Bolton was hiding in Gibson's apartment.

Gave Signal
From a rented room across from the North Clark street massacre garage Bolton is believed to have given the signal which sent Capone gunmen into the building to mow down the seven "Bugs" Moran gangsters, according to Police Lieutenant William Cusack.

Harold Nathan, assistant to J. Edgar Hoover, head of the division of investigation of the Department of Justice, announced that Bolton had fled Chicago immediately after the St. Valentine's day massacre. Bolton, who first gave the name of Willie Harrison, St. Louis golf professional, has lived at Virden, Ill., and Springfield, Ill.

School Study Forms Principals' Subject

Westminster Professors Lead Informal Discussion Here Last Night

Should girls and boys develop their study habits while in elementary school, in high school or in college, or at just what age should the study habit be developed? That perplexing question formed the problem which the Lawrence County Principals' association analyzed informally at their January meeting in the Greer building office of County Superintendent John C. Syling last night.

Leading the discussion were two Westminster college faculty men, Dr. Burr and Dr. Cooper, who also spoke on the subject of "How to Study." Both speakers brought stimulating messages.

The principals were told that the annual Northwestern Pennsylvania Inter-Scholastic Music contest this year will be held in New Castle on April 12 and 13, that the state musical contest, held last year in Johnstown, would be held in Oil City on April 26 and 27.

Dates have not been decided upon for the county elimination contests.

Ninety-nine years ago today there was born in the slave quarters of an old southern plantation a baby girl whom her proud parents named Emma.

It was in 1834—eight years before the telegraph was invented, ten years before the United States went to war with Mexico and the match was so new it was a novelty.

Today Mrs. Emma McCallister is quietly celebrating her birthday at 1012 Croton avenue.

Seated in a comfortable arm chair she took a News representative with her back into the pages of history. She talked slowly, deliberately, and could describe her early life with a surprising command of details.

"I was born in Madisonville, Kentucky," she said, "and as near as I can figure it was ninety-nine years ago. I might be older than that but I know that I am not younger."

"My mother and father and some other Negro people were the slaves of George and Jim Whetzel, who were brothers and lived at Madisonville. There were six of us children born there and when the Whetzel family divided, two slave children were given to each of the two Whetzel sons and the one daughter."

"My young mistress was Miss Lizzie who married a man by the name of Osborne. I served her until the Civil war when all slaves were freed, and I want to tell you that I found life a whole lot easier when a slave than I ever did free. Miss Lizzie treated me fine and I was sorry to leave her."

"Twenty years ago I went back to Kentucky for a visit but all the Whetzels were dead except Miss Kate, the oldest daughter, who was blind. All of my folks are dead too."

Mrs. McCallister has lived in New Castle 30 years with her daughter, Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Ware. Mrs. Ware was named after her mother's young mistress, Miss Lizzie.

Shipping Losses Run Into Millions
Gray, Clammy Fog Over Atlantic Coastline, Paralyzes Shipping

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A gray, clammy fog which enveloped the Atlantic seaboard today from Wilmington, N. C., to Cape Race, Newfoundland, brought losses by shipping interests to more than $1,000,000, marooned more than 2,500 passengers on incoming liners within ten miles of New York's skyscrapers, and continued to keep all planes, passenger and mail, grounded at eastern air ports.

No quick lifting of the fog, now in its fourth day, was expected at the New York weather bureau.

Only one mail plane has left Newark airport in four days. On Monday afternoon a plane cleared for Cleveland. Since then none has left and none has arrived.

Condors are devouring thousands of baby alligators, less than a foot long, which now swarm the banks of the Orinoco River in South America.

He refused to leave his post for what he regarded as only a scratch.

"That house gives me the 'jitters.'" You, no doubt, have used this same expression. Perhaps, to describe the home of one of your personal friends. Others, perhaps, have made the same remark about your home. Of course, what the expression really means is that the house is uninviting, cold, drab, dead. It's such a simple thing to make a house live and breathe—to make it sparkle with life and good cheer. A dash of color here—another color there—quickly changes the entire appearance of a room. The nice part of it all is that, by using NU-ENAMEL, you can make these changes yourself. NU-ENAMEL can be applied over old paint—leaves no brush marks—and one coat is all that is needed.

You know the things in your home that give you the "jitters." Why not brighten them up today with NU-ENAMEL.

What is NU-ENAMEL
NU-ENAMEL is compounded under a private formula prepared after years of extensive research. Its base is an Oriental oil, a product extracted from the fruit or nuts of a tree growing in China. For centuries the ancient Chinese have used this oil with amazing results for protecting and other precious surfaces. The sacred idols of the temples and other precious wood-carvings are shielded from decay, as well as boats and bridges. World famous research chemists have long attempted to use this Oriental oil as a base for enamel and paint. NU-ENAMEL succeeded, and, as a result, NU-ENAMEL possesses many distinctive features over old paint. (1) Can be applied over old paint. (2) One coat is all that is required. (3) Leaves no brush marks. (4) No unpleasant odors. (5) Dries quickly. (6) Makes hard, glassy finish. (7) Easily cleaned. (8) Colors remain sharp.

State Veterans Get $33,272,339

Huge Sum Paid In Pennsylvania
During Fiscal Year
Of 1934

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—
Federal government expenditures on veterans and their dependants during the fiscal year of 1934 ended last June thirtieth were greater in Pennsylvania than in all but two states, Brigadier General Frank T.
Hines, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, reports.

Such disbursements in the Keystone state aggregated $33,272,339 during the year. Such expenditures were larger in only two states, amounting to $41,106,667, in New York and $38,868,048 in California.

These disbursements represented total veterans outlays, including direct and indirect benefits and operation and construction costs at all facilities maintained by the Veteran's Administration.

Ohio followed Pennsylvania as fourth of the states, such disbursements there aggregating $30,132,- 155.

In West Virginia such expenditures amounted to $5,628,549.

FREED FROM JAIL, MAN FIGHTS, WEDS, GOES BACK TO CELL

SHARPSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—
Things happen rapidly in the life of Harold G. Franklin, R. D. 1 Sharpsville.

Out of jail, married, and returned to jail all in the same day mean little or nothing in his life, it seems. He was arrested for driving his automobile with 1934 plates by Constable E. E. Watson. He was sentenced to serve three days in Mercer jail by Justice of the Peace
Edward P. Young.

Yesterday he was released, but was arrested on charge of assault and battery following an argument with Lewis Emerick, Sharpsville.
He was sentenced to serve 10 days in the Mercer jail.

But, before he left for Mercer, he was united in marriage to Ruth Emerick, daughter of Mrs. Eva Emerick, by Justice Young.

Wondrous Optical Surgery Developed

New Eyes Are Grafted On Blind At Hospital
In India

(International News Service)
CALCUTTA, Jan. 10.—Sight has been partially restored to an Indian woman who was blind in one eye, and to a totally blind Indian girl, by grafting parts of other eyes on theirs.

The operations were carried out in the Eye Hospital of the Medical College here.

The first case was that of a Hindu girl, aged 16, who was completely blind. A graft was taken from the cornea of a man of 25 whose left eye had been injured and was sightless.

This was transferred to the girl's left eye, and put in position by cross stitches arranged in cartwheel shape.

Six days later the stitches were removed, and a month after the operation the graft had "taken".
The patient can now see daylight and there is every hope that her vision will improve still further.

In the other case a Hindu woman of 20 had lost the sight of the right eye. A graft was taken from an 80-year-old man whose eye was removed for absolute glaucoma.

Within a month the woman could use the right eye to count fingers held up at a considerable distance from her and could read large print.

The only time you can get a society woman to wear tights is when the play is given for charity.

St. Michaels Trip Campbell

St. Michaels Stage Great Rally In League Game
To Take 36 To 31
Victory

BALLA-MOTSKO HIGH SCORERS

St. Michaels of New Castle, coached by Michael "Jake" Babovsky, came from behind at the Youngstown floor last night to upset a highly touted St. Johns team of Campbell, O., for a 36 to 31 victory in the Penn-Ohio church league. Balla and Motosko brought the St. Michaels through with flying colors. The St. Michaels are the leaders of the league.

For the first three periods of the game, the St. Michaels were outplayed by the Ohioans, with a score of 8 to 3 at the first period and 15 to 10 at the half. The third period ended 24 to 12 in favor of the St. Johns team. It was in the last ten minutes of play that Balla, the great St. Michaels forward, went into action and made six field goals and two fouls for 14 points and with it went the morale of the Campbell team. Motosko helped out considerably with two field goals and five fouls. Chernyavsky played his customary fine game and kicked in with six points, as did J. Slosernick.

The St. Michaels Praised.
The entire St. Michaels team played a smart brand of basketball and deserve credit for the phenomenal stand that brought them thru in the final period after being topped down by their opponents. The crowd was unanimous in praise of the St. Michaels for the rally that brought them 24 points in the closing stanza, after the game had apparently been lost. The Campbell team could score but seven points in the fourth period.

The Illinois state government received approximately $40,596 as revenue from the 179 professional boxing shows staged in the city of Chicago. . . During the six games played by the Northwestern basketball team prior to the opening of the Big Ten, Lyle Fisher, 6-foot 2-inch forward, scored 106 points for an average of 17 and a fraction points per game. . . Joe Berwanger, all-American football star of the Chicago Maroons, is the leading track candidate on the Midway. Last season he proved to be sort of a one-man team, being active in all the running and field events except the distance races.

The Western Conference all-time scoring record in basketball was set in 1933 by Joe Reiff of Northwestern, who scored 167 points. In setting his mark Reiff averaged slightly under 14 points per game. . . The 25-year Hoosier basketball rivalry between Notre Dame and Butler U. up to and including last season stands at 12 wins for the Irish and 10 for Butler. . . Paul Runyan was given the No. 1 position on the all-American golf team for 1934 announced recently by Olin Dutra, national open champ. Other members of the team, listed in order of their ranking, are as follows: Ky Laffoon, Harry Cooper, Tommy Armour, Wally Cox, Bobby Cruickshank, Jimmy Thompson and Craig Wood. . . The highest salary ever paid by the St. Louis Cardinals, was $30,000, counting additions to Rogers Hornsby in 1926. . . Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, former American and British women's golf champion, has won 750 prizes.

Apparently major league magnates are of the opinion that high-priced rookies aren't worth the risk. At any rate, the days of fancy bidding seems to be gone. Strand cost the Athletics $75,000; Chicago paid $100,000 for Kamm and $120,000 for Cissell. In contrast to these prices we find that Babe Ruth cost Boston only $5,000; the Cards paid less than that for Bottomley; Miller Huggins grabbed Rogers Hornsby for $400, and Ty Cobb cost Detroit only $800. Eddie Collins and Lou Gehrig came directly to the majors from college. . . Clifton Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, once declared, "The best player I ever had cost me next to nothing. A guy gave me Sam Rice, Bucky Harris set me back $2,500, and Ossie Bluege cost only $3,500. Call up the Union Station and ask how much a railroad ticket from Coffeyville, Kan., cost in 1907 and you'll know how much Walter Johnson cost."

Max Baer caught and released an attic bat in the lobby of an exclusive Del Monte, Cal., hotel when he was visiting there. Three bellboys and a porter were required to chase it out of the building. . . Bobby Cruickshank, the golfer, once sank a 20-foot putt while playing in a tournament, but the ball popped out when a bullfrog on which it had landed hopped out. . . Night harness racing has drawn as many as 24,000 spectators at Anderson, Ind. . . The all-star baseball game last summer celebrated the 300th anniversary of organized sport in New York. It started with bowling on the green and cock fighting. . . Sixteen years ago Frankie Boucher, New York Rangers hockey star, was a member of the Northwest mounted police. . . Babe Ruth once beat Walter Hagen by two strokes in nine holes. It happened at Florida in 1930 and the score was 36-38.

PALO ALTO, Cal., Jan. 10.—Glenn S. ("Pop") Warner, football coach at Temple, returned to his old stamping grounds today. . . Warner's Palo Alto home overlooks Stanford University where he coached several years before moving on to Temple last season. . . The "Old Fox" indicated quite emphatically he was not "looking for" any post-season games with Pacific Coast teams.

Floor Officials Are Denounced By Eastern Coaches

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Need of standardized officiating at collegiate basketball games, aggravated in recent weeks by severe criticism from officials of two major inter-collegiate games, comes to a head today with the announcement that eastern members of the national basketball committee have been invited to attend the doubleheader at Madison Square Garden next Wednesday.

In the current series of games, New York university seeks to continue its unbroken string against Temple and Pittsburgh meets Fordham in the second game. . . Coach Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, whose team lost to NYU on a foul shot in the closing minute of play last Saturday, did not mince words in denouncing the officiating. He did not hesitate to say that had a Southeastern Conference referee been calling them at the Garden his boys would have beaten the Violet team decisively.

Three Games At "Y" On Friday

No League Games Are Scheduled, Three Non-League Battles
Planned

Three fast basketball games will be played at the "Y" floor Friday night, it was announced by Henry MacNicholas, physical director of the "Y" today. There will not be any league games played this week.

In the first game, a non-league affair, the First Christians will play the strong Gersons quintet. This game should be good, as the lineups of both teams are dotted by former high school stars.

The second game will find the First M. E. and the New Castle High Seniors playing. In the third and final game the great St. Michaels team of New Castle will play the St. Anns of Farrell, Pa., and the St. Anns, with a number of former Westminster college and ex-high stars in the lineup, hope to stop the winning streak compiled by the Babovskymen in the past 10 or 15 games.

Joe Louis Will Battle Birkie At Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 10.—Hans Birkie, German-American heavyweight, was to arrive here today to begin preparations for his bout tomorrow night with Joe Louis, Detroit negro, whose meteoric ring career has brought him to the forefront of heavyweight fighting contenders.

Heavy has been working out daily here, and is believed to be in perfect condition for his battle with Birkie. The 20-year-old Detroit fighter is anxious to continue his unbeaten record, which includes 10 knockouts in 13 fights.

Birkie has met a host of formidable opponents in his ring career, among them Primo Carnera, Art Lasky and Steve Hamas. Interest in his battle with Louis, who is making his first appearance here, has indicated a capacity crowd for their engagement tomorrow night.

Golf League To Start Parties

Shenango Tin Mill Team Will Be Host To Golfers
January 23

Arrangements for a series of parties to be held at the Municipal course club house during the balance of the winter, were made at a meeting, held last evening in the city council chambers. The first of these will take place on January 23, when the Shenango Tin Mill team will be hosts.

The parties will be similar in nature to those which the league has sponsored during the past two seasons, and will consist of a program of entertainment with cards and a lunch.

Plans for the league season will be outlined later in the year. Several new teams are seeking admission to the league, and indications point to one of the most successful seasons during the coming summer.

The meek shall inherit the earth. When people quit being meek they quit having children to inherit anything.

Grove City To Tackle Penn On Friday Evening

GROVE CITY, Jan. 10.—The Crimson cagers take on a new opponent here Friday evening, when Penn College will send a veteran outfit from Cleveland to provide Grove City's second game of the season. It will be the first of three trips to Western Pennsylvania for the Penn Foxes, who will tackle Thiel and Allegheny later in the campaign.

Balked of victory in the opener last week, the Groves have put in some strenuous ticks this week, and the squad is showing progress. He has been giving much attention to Howard Swanson, freshman center, this week, and although the veteran Patterson is slated to start, the Long Island youth may break in if the upper-class combination fails to click.

While reports were rife as to who will be Baer's opponent, one persistent "that Jack Sharkey, former champion, may be fought back into the ring to meet the fighter-actor.

Goals by Rosan, who was high scorer of the game, and Casper, insured victory for the unbeaten Owl aggregation.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Temple University's basketball record for the current season was still unblemished today, after being closely pressed by the Penn State quintet, the latter team losing an overtime game last night by a score of 35-33.

State led at the half, 16-15, but the Temple squad came back in the second half and took the lead until the final seconds of play, when State tied the score. With the count knotted at 31 points apiece, the two teams fought it out in the extra period.

Goals by Rosan, who was high scorer of the game, and Casper, insured victory for the unbeaten Owl aggregation.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Those who believe that there is a big profit in baseball may have a different opinion after reading the report of Philip K. Wigley, president of the Chicago Cubs, which says that loss for the club for the past three years totals $600,000. The loss last year was $200,000. He assigned three major reasons for the loss, namely, falling off in attendance, and generous salaries to the players and a big cash expenditure for the purchase of stars who failed to click. He added that his job as president of the team and director of its policies would be to restore the club to a paying proposition.

William Tilden spoiled George Lott's professional debut at Madison Square garden, New York, last night when he beat the Chicagoan 6-4, 7-5. Lott was beaten but was not disgraced. He played before a critical audience of 16,000, on a surface and under lights to which he was unaccustomed yet forced the old master to flash his best tennis.

Wendell Wilson, freshman coach for the past four years at Illinois, has been elevated to a varsity position in charge of the backs and ends. He succeeds Molt Olander, who resigned.

Ray Impelletiere, a bigger but less exploited fighter than Max Baer, has been signed by Chicago boxing promoters to fight Max Baer, heavyweight champion in a 10-round bout March 18. Ray is known as the Towering Imp because he stands 6 feet 7 1/2 inches tall and weighs 275 pounds.

The San Francisco unit of the Shriners hospital for Crippled Children at San Francisco will receive more than $35,000, net profit from the tenth annual East-West football game there New Year's day, according to William M. Coffman, director of the game.

Baer Signed For Fight In Boston In June, Is Reported Today

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Max Baer, world's heavyweight champion, will defend his title in this city in June, the first heavyweight championship bout to be staged here in years. Baer, who meets Dick Madden, Roxbury heavyweight, tonight in a four-rounder, has signed a contract held by Rip Valenti, local promoter, and Jack Dempsey, to meet an opponent, who will be named a month before the June bout in Fenway park or Braves field.

While reports were rife as to who will be Baer's opponent, one persistent "that Jack Sharkey, former champion, may be fought back into the ring to meet the fighter-actor.

Goals by Rosan, who was high scorer of the game, and Casper, insured victory for the unbeaten Owl aggregation.

MYSTERY DEVELOPS DURING SESSION

Dr. Condon On Cross-

Witness For Reilly

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—While Dr. John F. ("Jafsie") Condon was undergoing a lashing cross-examination today at the Bruno Richard Hauptmann murder trial, it was disclosed that a note addressed to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and sent to Condon with the baby's sleeping suit, was missing.

Chief Defense Counsel Edward J. Reilly asked Condon where the note was, "Jafsie" replied he left it in his home for Lindbergh to see when he called there while the negotiations were in progress.

"Have you seen it since?" asked Reilly.

"No," replied Condon.

"Do you know where it is now?" "No," answered the witness.

PA NEW OBSERVES

There was a practice in this city years ago that could well be revived. It was the scrubbing of the downtown streets. What a fine chance has been afforded in the past few days of getting out a hose and thoroughly cleaning the downtown streets. Morning hours after midnight, with much interference by traffic.

And what a fine thing it would have been. Clean streets are an asset to any city, as well as a thing having much to do with health conditions.

Trying to drive through Taylor street, off South Mill street, proved costly for a local motorist. The man's car became stuck in the deep mud. A wrecker had to be used to pull out the car.

Standing upright in a sea of mud, in the plot of ground in the park on the Public Square, are two signs "Keep Off the Grass," which seems rather ironical at this time of year.

Mrs. H. S. Shuttlesworth of 134 Fairmont avenue was surprised to see a bright red cardinal flitting about at the rear of her home this morning. The cardinals always turn in the spring but never so early. That bird is due for a nice little surprise from Old Man Winter and his capricious son, Jack Frost.

The fog seemed to have lifted in this area this morning, as the weather became a little cooler. For several days and nights the entire district was enveloped in a heavy fog.

Unpaved streets are feeling the result of the weather conditions of the past week. Many of them are "going through" and large mudholes are in evidence.

With all of these reports about robins, snakes, snails, early hatched chickens, etc., Pa New is still inclined to believe that spring is not yet on the way. There'll be some real winter yet, we are afraid.

Daily Weather Report

U. S. weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at nine o'clock this morning:

Maximum temperature, 57.
Minimum temperature, 48.
Precipitation, .03 inches.
River stage, 8.8 feet.

Statistics for the same date a year ago follow:

Maximum temperature, 37.
Minimum temperature, 29.
Precipitation, .01 inches.

Says Old Post Office Must Be Purchased

City of New Castle will not receive the federal building in North Mercer street as a gift, according to Alec Thomas, who said that in a talk with a U. S. treasury officer the latter said that if the city got it the government would expect payment.

Thomas pointed out that it would be unreasonable for anyone to imagine that Uncle Sam would hand the post office building to the city for nothing, and that if the citizens hope to get the building for any purpose they must expect to pay for it.

He made the statement today while talking with Mayor Charles B. Mayne, who is one member of city council who has intimated during the library discussions that the building abandoned for post office purposes could be converted into a good building for municipal purposes.

The mayor pointed out that the present library board paid for the present building out of tax moneys and will receive another building in time, and intimated the time may come when the citizens may get a chance to vote on whether the library should continue to get one-half mill.

State's Case Against Hauptmann Is Being Developed Steadily

By LEIGH MATTESON

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—The background portion of New Jersey's case against Bruno Richard Hauptmann, as outlined by Attorney General Wilentz in his summary after a jury had been selected, was nearly complete today.

Meanwhile three persons directly involved in the transactions of those hectic 32 days, from March 1, 1932, when the Lindbergh baby disappeared, until April 2, 1932, when the ransom was paid, have positively identified Hauptmann as the man who collected the $50,000 ransom and, inferentially, as the man who murdered the child.

Major Accusers
The major direct accusers of Hauptmann were Colonel Lindbergh, Joseph P. Zerkow and Dr. John F. ("Jafsie") Condon—one a world-famous aviator, the other a Bronx taxi driver and the other an ex-school teacher.

Dr. Condon on the witness stand today continued to make the defense lawyers very unhappy. His elaborate answers to slyly put questions (Continued On Page Two)

Sarig Appoints His Daughter To House Clerkship

(International News Service)
READING, Pa., Jan. 10.—Wilson G. Sarig of Temple, Berks county, speaker of the Pennsylvania state house of representatives, today appointed his daughter, Mae Sarig, as clerk to the speaker for the 1935 session of the legislature.

Pretty and vivacious, Mae is the eldest of Speaker Sarig's two daughters. An experienced stenographer, she is a graduate of Kutztown State Teachers college and Albright college. She was formerly a teacher in the high school at Muhlenberg township, Berks county, and also taught school for two years in Grafton, W. Va.

Sarig explained he appointed his daughter as clerk largely because with her help he will be able to clean up his correspondence at home over week-ends.

(International News Service)
DEADWOOD, S. D., Jan. 10.—Five children lay dead and 14 others were suffering from injuries today after a loaded school bus collided with a motor truck near Piedmont, virtually demolishing the two vehicles.

Four of the school children were critically injured and may not live, it was announced.

REPORT FISCH
FAMILY ON WAY TO U. S.

(International News Service)
LEIPZIG, Germany, Jan. 10.—Pincus Fisch, brother of the late Isidor Fisch, who Bruno Richard Hauptmann said left the Lindbergh ransom money in his Bronx home, is absent from Leipzig, it was learned today, but his secretary denied that Pincus is on his way to America to testify in Hauptmann's trial.

Four members of the Fisch family sailed for the United States yesterday aboard the Ile de France, it was reliably reported from Le Havre, France.

Former Local Woman Drowns; Also Two Sons

Tragedy Occurs At Olean, N. Y., As Family Is Crossing River

MRS. ALICE PURSELL
LOSES HER LIFE

Sons, Warren And Bruce,
Lost As Boat Upsets;
Father Rescued

In a river tragedy at Olean, N. Y., Mrs. Alice M. Pursell, 30, a former New Castle woman, and her two sons, Warren, 7, and Bruce, 8, were drowned on Wednesday as they were crossing the Allegheny river in a small boat on their way to school. Mrs. Pursell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mears, of 830 Butler avenue.

According to information received here the tragedy was caused by the high water. Following the recent thaw the river has been high with a fast current. Harold S. Pursell, the father and a friend, Fred Adsit, were taking Mrs. Pursell and the two small boys across the river, the school being located on the opposite side of the river from where the Pursells lived. Mr. Pursell and Mr. Adsit were rescued.

Pursell said he noticed water splashing into the stern of the boat. In an instant the boat filled and began to sink. None of the party could swim, it is said, except the younger boy.

It is estimated that because of the fog losses to shipping firms by traffic delays totaled at least $1,000,000.

United States To Pay Awards

Canadian Government Given $25,000 And Ship Captain $25,666.50 For
"I'm Alone"

RUM RUNNER WAS SUNK BY MISTAKE

(Copyright, 1935, By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The United States will accept the decision of the joint Canadian-American commission awarding $25,000 to the Canadian government and $25,666.50 to the captain and crew for the sinking of the rum running schooner "I'm Alone" by an American coast guard cutter's shells in the Gulf of Mexico in March, 1929.

It was also learned at the state department today that this government, in accordance with the commission's recommendation will formally apologize to Canada for the sinking of the schooner outside territorial waters.

The date of payment is undetermined because it will necessitate a special appropriation by congress. Officials were gratified at the conciliatory manner in which a dispute with Canada over the sinking of a Canadian-registered vessel by an armed American ship was settled.

School Bus Gets Mired In Roadway

Pulaski Township Bus Has To Be Dug From Muddy Road
Wednesday Afternoon

When one of the Pulaski township school buses became stuck in the mud on the road leading from King's Chapel to Pulaski yesterday, it required several hours of digging to get it out, county school authorities stated today.

The unimproved country roads have become pretty soft during the past few days, due to the thaw and rain, and the road from King's Chapel to Pulaski is in bad shape in spots, it is reported. This road is the most direct one from New Castle to Pulaski, but is unimproved in some sections.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 10.—Last week it was "how did you like the president's message?" This week it's "how did you like his figures?"

I never thought we would live to see a Democrat that could put down that many figures and get 'em right. Well, it goes for relief, and there is nobody can legitimately kick on that.

By the end of next year, '36, our per capita debt will be $270 each. (Course if you think that's too high, you gotta perfect right to die and beat it.)

Well, England the country we point out as being the most prosperous at this time, their's is exactly double that. Why we are just amateurs at being taxed.

Yours,
Will Rogers.

Congressman Names O'Neill As Secretary

Elmer D. O'Neill of 302 Winter avenue was notified today of his appointment as secretary to Congressman Charles R. Eckert. In a telegram to Mr. O'Neill, Congressman Eckert asked him to report to Washington, D. C., on Friday and Mr. O'Neill leaves tonight for the Capitol.

The selection of Mr. O'Neill is pleasing to his friends but is not altogether a surprise. Following the election Congressman Eckert considered a field of about seven candidates for the secretarial post but for some time it was known that he leaned toward the candidacy of Mr. O'Neill.

Mr. O'Neill is a graduate of the New Castle High School, Class of 1926, and of Westminster College, Class of 1931. For two years he studied law in the law school of the University of Michigan and spent some sections.

Got $70

KITTANNING, Pa., Jan. 10.—State troopers were scouring Armstrong county's wooded sections near West Leechburg for two thugs who escaped from Leechburg Police Chief Marlin O'Leary in a running gun duel following a gasoline station robbery near here today.

Belief that one of the bandits was wounded was expressed by troopers when they revealed the rear of the former's car had been riddled by gunfire.

The bandits held up and robbed Jacob Ollinger, 25, a station attendant, after getting gasoline and oil. One of the men asked Ollinger for a match, followed him into the gas station and then stuck a gun in his back. They escaped with $70.

Oil Legislation

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—President Roosevelt plans to ask congress to enact legislation making the provisions of the NIRA oil code, section 9C, declared unconstitutional by the supreme court Monday, conform to constitutional law.

This had been revealed today at a presidential press conference. In the meantime, it was made clear, the administration anticipates further legal decisions in connection with oil regulations.

Plainly, the administration does not intend to lose the manifold benefits of a year and a half of regulation of production.

"Jafsie" Somewhat Flus-

Cross-Examination

COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—Dr. John F. Condon, the incomparable "Jafsie" of the Lindbergh case, admitted under a blistering cross-examination today at the Bruno Richard Hauptmann murder trial that, although he saw "John"—the man he had identified as Hauptmann—as late as August, 1934, he made no attempt to capture him.

"Jafsie" was riding on a bus at the time but he told chief defense counsel Edward J. Reilly, he did not demand that the driver stop the bus. Neither did he yell for anybody to seize the man.

"It was none of my business," was Condon's amazing answer.

Reilly went after "Jafsie" about his failure to try and apprehend "John," the man to whom he had testified he had paid over the $50,000 Lindbergh ransom in St. Raymond's cemetery.

Q.—(By Reilly)—Did you ask the bus driver to stop?

A.—No.

Q.—Didn't you ask the driver to run the man down?

A.—No. I couldn't on account of the traffic.

Q.—Didn't you yell to any passengers to grab the man?

A.—No. It was none of my business.

A surprised murmur ran through the court room at this answer. Reilly quickly demanded in a loud voice:

"You mean to say it was none of your business?"

(International News Service)
COURTROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 10.—Sensation after sensation broke in court today while Dr. John F. ("Jafsie") Condon, the Lindbergh go-between, was undergoing a severe cross-examination at the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the murder of Lindbergh baby.

"Jafsie's" past was dragged out by Chief Defense Counsel Edward J. Reilly who asked him if he wasn't transferred from public school number two in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1902, "because of conduct unbecoming to a gentleman—because of your conduct with a woman teacher?"

"No, sir!" shouted Condon, beginning to look tired under Reilly's merciless examination.

But don't be dumb and leave your coat when you go out a walking, or soon the does will call on you and nurses will be talk- ing of pills and dope and stuff like that, and what the dose should be, it feels like June, but don't be fooled, the weather's fifty three.

Stock Market

Is Dull Today

Main Body Of Stocks Hold Around Closing Prices From Wednesday's Market

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The stock market was a rather dull affair today as the main body of issues held around their previous closing levels. Continental can rose about a point to a new high for 1934-1935 and Gillette rose more than a half point to its best levels in some months.

Utility shares were disappointing. Consolidated Gas ruled slightly lower while other utility favorites were virtually unchanged.

Sluggishness continued in the railroads. Atchafalaya sold down about a half point.

In the prime industrials, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and American can held around yesterday's final prices. Metal shares were dull and slightly easier. General Motors and Chrysler were firmer.

Liquors were strong, but tobacco stocks were inclined to work lower. Aviation, chemicals and specialties were dull.

Finishing Trims Inspection Five To Tie For Lead

Captain Barnes And Lasso Lead Fast Attack To Win By 33-18 Score

MECHANICS SURPRISE COLD DRAW CAGERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 10.—Finishing passers, defenders of the Shelby Inter-department basketball league crown, hit on all cylinders last night as they finally took over their old jinx, the inspection, in an impressive manner by winning 33-18. The Mechanical team administered the second surprise to the fast Cold Draw quintet by eking out a 29-28 victory in an exciting contest at the auditorium last night.

The finishing team was practically unmetopable last night. They nearly had the ball all evening and seemed like an inspired team. Their game was of championship caliber as very few shots were wasted. They took command of the situation from the opening whistle and never relinquished their grip. The champions kept adding to their lead as the game progressed. The score was 9-1 at the end of the first quarter, 18-8 at the half, 23-13 in the third quarter, and 33-18 final. Captain Tom Barnes and Lasso were the big guns in the finishing attack. Fred Hoff and Rossman were best for the losers.

In view of the result of the second game of the evening, the league is looked upon with a new light. Only last week the crown aspired Cold Draw five was surprised with a setback at the hands of the Office and last night they had a similar experience with the Mechanical team. This practically eliminated them from first half honors. After trailing 10-4 in the initial stanza, the Mechanics came up to lead 15-14 at the half and 20-18 in the third quarter. The contest swayed back and forth in the last period with the Mechanics finally getting the edge. The work of "Red" Tomei was sensational as he alone accounted for 13 points. Leyda and Clyde were outstanding for the losers.

Nothing will please the locals so much as a victory over the red and black. Having the advantage of playing on their home floor, the Benedict men feel that they will not have the cellar position after tomorrow night.

Senior Class Play Delights Large Audience

Gretta Lemery, Joe Hasbach, Gertrude Jones, William Tinker Are Impressive

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 10.—Talent, class, unusual ability and capable directing were in evidence, on Wednesday evening when the near Senior graduating class of the local high school delighted a large and appreciative audience with the play "Skidding" in the Lincoln auditorium.

It was one of the most successful productions of the type ever given here. From the standpoint of story, performance, and ability to hold the interest of the audience it would rival any production of the past for honors. All in all it is a distinct credit to the class committee for the selection of the play to the performance, and to the directing ability of Arthur Webster and Miss Beatrice Brunton of the high school faculty.

The play was of a type that featured an unusual amount of human interest that could depict the life of any modern American family. The entire cast displayed an unusual histrionic ability. The practical, humorous, and serious parts of the play were clearly brought out and appreciated by the audience. Each of the ten characters had an important part in the production and left an undeniable impression on the assemblage.

Interesting Plot

The play and its plot had to do with Judge James Hardy and his family and life at his home as he strove for re-election. The Judge, having attained the reputation of being stern, but a dignified, honest and wise man after 20 years service, was experiencing difficulty in his campaign for nomination and re-election to the district court. Failing to accede to the demands of a strong, crooked political machine the Judge's nomination appeared extremely doubtful.

This role was in the capable hands of William Tinker. Things began to look a little more rosy with the arrival of the Judge's daughter, Marion, from college who had just completed a course in political science and was aspiring to a career in this field. With her was her fiancé, Wayne Trenton, III, who emphatically opposed this, but later rendered valuable aid to the election of Judge Hardy to the state supreme court of Idaho. Portraying these characters respectively were Miss Gretta Lemery and Joe Hasbach.

Family Brings Woe

To add to the Judge's woe of having a means to support his family when the election was lost, was the family difficulties of his two married daughters, who had left their husbands and come to live with him. Mrs. Hardy became provoked at the attitude taken by the modern wives and demanded that her two daughters return to their respective homes. Upon their refusal and the resentment of her husband to demand likewise, Mrs. Hardy took her belongings and left home. An argument had ensued over this in which nearly the entire family had participated. Miss Nellie Patterson and Miss Esther Bolotin as Estelle Hardy Campbell and Myra Hardy Wilcox respectively were the disillusioned wives. Miss Gertrude Jones was Mrs. Hardy. Miss Florence Daugherty played the role of devoted Aunt Milly.

Before the family quarrel the Judge's stock for the nomination had gone up considerably as a result of Marion's effort. His campaign speakers failing to show up, Marion had volunteered to address a public gathering in his behalf. This resulted in bringing her to prominence and finally having her nominated to the state legislature. Her political aspirations was the cause of a violent quarrel with her fiancee and the breaking of their engagement.

Tense Situation
The Judge persisting in his policy of honesty and integrity was doomed to defeat, but he still had a chance of attaining the supreme court if he but would meet other demands of federal men, which again jeopardize his policy. The judge again refused and resigned himself to his fate.

In the meantime his two married daughters began to find things not all to agreeable at the Judge's home and finally repented of their actions. Mrs. Hardy returned at this moment and was received with open arms. She had come with good news to the two daughters and sent them home to beg forgiveness of their wailing husbands. The reason for their leaving their husbands, was that one was not receiving enough attention and the other too much. Judge Hardy, in the argument when the wayward wives had first come had remarked, "too bad you ladies couldn't exchange husbands."

After the family matters had been straightened out, Mrs. Hardy began to comfort her husband in his despair. It was at this time that the good news had come that Marion Hardy had been nominated to the state legislature. Later, Mr. Stubbins, the Judge's campaign manager played by Leo Menace, and Wayne Trenton, came rushing in to congratulate the judge on his nomination to the state supreme court. These two through a political machination had satisfied the federal men in their desire and at the same time absolved the judge from responsibility. The federal men in turn placed their support and influence behind the judge and insured his nomination and election.

Everything had ended for the best with the exception of Marion's lost romance. But Grandpa Hardy, played by Robert Sprague, had come in to play a telling hand. Through some wise counsel and the presentation of a traditional gift of wedding slippers, which he had made by hand, he weakened Marion's exterior. Young Trenton had come in at the proper moment and the difficulties between them were straightened out.

Parts Well Played

Much of the comedy and laughter in the play was provided by Lyle Koach, who plays the role of Andy, the youngest in the family and a high school student. He was the typical American boy, who had new clothes and objected to the members of the family making a hand of him. He also showed that he could aid his family in the time of a crisis.

The role of political campaign manager seemed to be made to order for Leo Menace, who was a personification of importance and dignity. Miss Daugherty, as the kind, tender, loving and devoted Aunt Milly, was completely enveloped in her character and deserves much praise for her performance. Miss Jones delighted the audience with her portrayal of Mrs. Hardy as the typical American housewife of the old school, who showed every ability on how to run her family and gave some sound advice to her daughters.

Miss Lemery and Joe Hasbach provided the necessary and yet different type of romance. They fitted into their parts like a glove, as did William Tinker. If it had not been for the programs Robert Sprague could not have been distinguished from Grandpa Hardy.

The high school orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Paul Winter, provided some excellent music between acts. Just before the last act, President Mathey Buzard in behalf of the class thanked various local merchants and people and the several class committees for their contributions, time, and effort in making the affair a success. He also expressed their appreciation to the directors.

TO SIDETRACK WORLD COURT MEASURE

Senate Leaders To Delay Action

White House Wants Resolution Side-Track For Fear Of Long Contest

RECOVERY ACTION MUST COME FIRST

WASHINGTON Jan. 10.—Under instructions from the White House, Senate leaders today planned to sidetrack the world court resolution temporarily for fear a bitter battle over its ratification would endanger enactment of President Roosevelt's recovery legislation.

Although the senate foreign relations committee reported a resolution of adherence yesterday with recommendations for its ratification, a report probably will not be submitted to the Senate for another week or ten days. It will be prepared by Senator Joseph T. Robinson, (D) of Arkansas, majority leader, and he declined to say when it would be ready.

A tremendous contest will be waged over ratification. The principal battle will come over the issue of joining a tribunal set up by the League of Nations. One pro-court Senator said the issue would be to "decide whether we will be a party to decisions of a court on questions affecting Europe, Asia or South America, in which we have no direct interest and which may be contrary to our views of justice."

then don't gamble with your body

Life insurance companies tell us that the gradual breakdown of the human body causes more deaths every year than disease germs

If your physical let-down is caused by a lowered red-blood-cell and hemo-globin content in the blood—then S.S.S. is waiting to help you... though if you suspect an organic trouble, you will, of course, want to consult a physician or surgeon.

S.S.S. is not just a so-called tonic. It is a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also has the mineral elements so very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-globin of the blood.

This two-fold purpose is important. Digestion is improved... food is better utilized... and thus you are enabled to better "carry on" without exhaustion—as you should naturally.

You should feel and look years younger with life giving and purifying blood surging through your body. You owe this to yourself and friends.

Make S.S.S. your health safeguard and, unless your case is exceptional, you should soon enjoy again the satisfaction of appetizing food... sound sleep... steady nerves... a good complexion... and renewed strength.

ORDER STANDS DECLARES HAVEN

"Bottles Off Tables At Midnight" Order To Be Enforced

Relative to the statement by Attorney E. K. Logan of an opinion from an enforcement officer of the State Liquor board concerning the sale of liquor and beer up to midnight and the consumption thereof after midnight, I wish to say that, my order "Bottles off the table at midnight" stands.

This was the reply of Chief of Police John P. Haven today to the opinion of C. E. Smith, enforcement officer of the liquor board, to the local attorney that the midnight "bottles off the table" order cannot be enforced.

"The State Liquor Control board is not a law body. The only thing they can give out is an opinion. Mr. Smith is an enforcement officer. My guess is as good as his," the chief said.

"When I took the oath of office as chief of police I swore to enforce the laws of the commonwealth. I intend to enforce them."

"I do not intend to listen to decisions such as quoted. The city police department is going by the laws made by the legislature."

"Heretofore the police have been lenient regarding the 'Bottles off the table at midnight' order. It was not enforced to the very minute but effective Saturday night, it will be." The chief said that he had found a majority of the proprietors very willing to cooperate with the order and those who do not obey the order will find it being enforced to the minute Saturday night.

Most of the places have ceased selling beer at 11:45 p. m. and attaches of the places remove all bottles and glasses promptly at the stroke of midnight on Saturday.

Roosevelt And Leaders Confer

President Calls Upon Leaders To Discuss Legislative Program

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Fully recovered from his cold, President Roosevelt today opened conferences on the general legislative program, summoning Vice President Garner, Senators Robinson of Arkansas and Byrnes of South Carolina, and Rep. Buchanan of Texas to the White House.

He planned also to see Donald R. Richberg, his recovery coordinator, to have Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the securities and exchange commission, his guest at luncheon.

In addition, the president released a number of recess nominations, including acting postmasters, for senate confirmation.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

BOOKS KEPT BUSY

December's circulation at the city public library was 26,716, the board of trustees learned this week. Fiction led non-fiction by 13,989 to 2,044. Foreign literature trailed in with a circulation of 160. Juvenile fiction totaled 10,523.

BEFORE BEDTIME CHECK THAT IRRITATING BRONCHIAL COUGH

Sleep Sound All Night

Enjoy a coughless night—sleep sound and awake refreshed—just be wise enough to take 2 or 3 doses of Buckley's Mixture (triple acting) before you go to bed—it's safe for the kids also.

For bronchial coughs—for tough, old, persistent coughs take a few doses of Buckley's and feel as good as ever again. Get a 45 cent bottle at Eckerd's Drug Store, Shaffer & Snyder, The Rexall Stores or any druggist—it acts like a flash and is mighty effective for those dangerous bad-acting hang-on coughs that nothing seems to help—often one sip stops an ordinary cough.

ELECTRICITY is cheaper than SCHOOL FAILURES

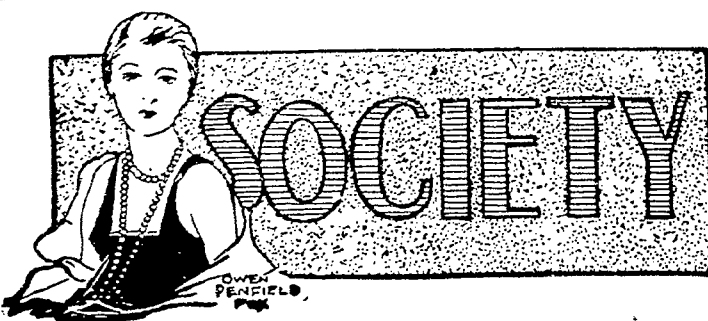

... every school failure in New Castle costs approximately $65.00 ... many of these failures are directly attributable to poor and defective vision ... statistics prove that 40% of our school children have poor eyesight ... and yet the cost of proper light in the home for study work can be measured in pennies ... can we afford not to have GOOD LIGHT?

The price of electricity in the home is the lowest in history and scientific lamps are available that give proper light at low cost.

COUNCIL WOMEN HEAR LEGISLATOR

The department of legislature of the National Council of Jewish Women, Mrs. L. F. Kohn, chairman, arranged the program for the monthly meeting Wednesday evening in Temple Israel, when Miss Helen Grimes of Pittsburgh, a former member of the Pennsylvania state legislature, Allegheny district, addressed the members.

Miss Grimes had as her subject "Woman's Place in Public Life." In part she said that women have made good in public life when they have had the opportunity, and with a background of four sessions in the legislature, she traced a bill through the House, Senate and to the governor, to its passage or defeat. She pointed out that law making is affected by economic life and urged the women to study the economic life in all its phases, especially that relating to legislation in regard to food products. She urged the women to place proper women in the legislature in order to make for the betterment of life.

The department of welfare displayed an interesting scrap book, which has been compiled for the children in the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Mrs. William Cosel was elected as delegate to the tenth conference on the Cause and Cure of War in Washington January 22, when Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt will be one of the speakers.

Refreshments were served, hostesses being Mesdames Ted Marlin, J. Raffel, N. Linville, J. Moresky and M. Davis.

NAMELESS BRIDGE GUESTS WEDNESDAY

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Russell Hannon entertained members of the Nameless Bridge Club in a charming manner at her home, located at Phillips Place. Mrs. Hannon was a special guest.

Two tables of contract were in play, with tallies and score pads carrying unique silhouette designs. The award for honor score, was captured by Miss Lucille Moore.

At the close of play, the guests were invited into the dining room, where a beautifully appointed table was laid for eight. Red roses formed the centerpiece, flanked by tall lighted white tapers, presenting an attractive setting. Mrs. Hannon was assisted in serving a delicious lunch by Mrs. F. B. Hennon.

Mrs. Robert Houk will entertain the girls in two weeks.

INTRODUCTORY DINNER FOR DIBBLE PARTY

Congeniality, good fellowship, and a hearty welcome featured the introductory dinner given Wednesday evening in the dining room of the First Baptist church, when the chorus choir honored Mr. and Mrs. George Dibble and their son, Melvin Dibble, and Miss Rachel Shively, accompanist.

The deaconesses of the church, Mrs. N. L. Gardner, chairman, arranged a most delicious menu, while D. R. Smith acted as toastmaster during the dinner hour. Words of welcome were extended to the party, which will be in charge of services in the church for the next two weeks, and gracious responses were made by the Dibles.

During their stay in the city the Dibles will be guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Smith, 304 Leasure avenue.

The Dibles are being entertained at lunch today in the home of Mrs. L. L. Gardner, Neshannock avenue. Friday they will be luncheon guests at the home of Mrs. H. M. Bannan, Winter avenue; Saturday in the home of Mrs. W. H. Luikhart, Meyer avenue, and Sunday at the parsonage, Garfield avenue.

OWEN FOX ADDRESSES NORTH BEAVER CLUB

Owen Penfield Fox addressed the North Beaver Garden club Wednesday evening at their January meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fullerton, near Mt. Jackson. The first part of his talk dealt with the Indians and their customs and the second part concerned tree and game conservation. Mr. Fox spoke at the instigation of Mrs. H. E. Reed and Mrs. M. Dale Andrews, who had charge of the program.

At the business session which was in charge of the president, Mrs. J. W. Fullerton, a report of the year's activities was given with the following highlights: Interesting activities were given at different times through the year by Mrs. Rhyhal, of New Castle, who spoke on "Western Trees" at the March Gathering; Mrs. Carrie Jeffery Roberts whose topic was "Foreign Trees" at another session, at which Ruth McClelland presented musical readings.

William Williams discussed rock gardens at the April meeting, and slides showing well known gardens were shown. Mrs. W. A. Howley and Mrs. C. A. Ingals, of the Lawrence County Garden club, were also present at this meeting, and during the social period refreshments were served.

Mr. Black, teacher of biology in the New Castle high school, gave a talk on "Wild Flowers" in May, this meeting also being distinguished by the distribution of seeds and an exchange of plants.

A hamburger fry was held in June at Yellow Creek Park, Struthers, and in August there was a corn roast. On August 31 and September 1 a flower show was held with much success, in the North Beaver township school. A mock trial was presented in November, and the month following, a tree was planted in the school yard.

The year was also marked by a turkey dinner and party. The next meeting of the organization will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Gardner, near Bethel, February 13.

EAST SIDE GARDEN CLUB MEMBERS MEET

What more striking and fitting for a Garden club meeting than a luncheon table beautifully arranged, and this was the outstanding feature of the meeting of the East Side Garden club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Mary Robinson, Cumberland avenue, when 15 members assembled for the buffet luncheon at 1 o'clock.

The artistic centerpiece, the gift of a local florist, was colorful with golden calendulas, lavender Russian statice and white stevia, intermingled with greenery. An appetizing menu completed the luncheon.

At 2 p. m. Mrs. Scott McEntire, program chairman, distributed the year books, which are delightfully suggestive of the club's nature, with a striking cover, designed by Miss Elma Badger. The year's outline presents a series of most interesting, enlightening and instructive programs.

Mrs. Leonard Cramer and Mrs. C. P. Brenner aided Mrs. McEntire in the arrangement. A display of pines interested the members and brought forth much instructive discussion, each member bringing a specimen. Mrs. Earl McKnight's paper on "Remaking An Old Garden" called forth much commendation.

The women answered the roll call with the name of their favorite flower or plant, its origin and meaning.

Mrs. H. O. Sturdevant conducted the business meeting when tentative plans were discussed for the next county meeting, April 4, when the East Side will act as hostess.

The various committees were named for this, with Mrs. W. R. McKnight, Mrs. Sherman Kitson, Mrs. Bart Richards and Mrs. Edward Alexander on the reception; Mrs. J. Elder Bryan, Mrs. Leonard Cramer, Mrs. Scott McEntire, Mrs. Cecil Potter and Mrs. Louis Garret, refreshments; Mrs. Earl McKnight, Mrs. Fred Remley, Mrs. Claude Maritz and Elma Badger, decorations; Mrs. H. P. Meehan, Mrs. C. R. Brenner and Mrs. Albert Wilson, program, and Mrs. James Kennedy, program, and Mrs. James Kennedy, program, and Mrs. James Kennedy, program.

At the February 13 meeting in the home of Mrs. Laura Wallace Adams street, there will be a dish garden display. William Williams, garden expert, will be the speaker at an early meeting.

At the appointed hour, the hostess served a tasty lunch at the dining room table, which was attractively arranged in appointments of blue and white. CRACKING DOWN ON CRIME

THE most sure method of halting crime is to take the profit out of it. Governor Henry Horner, of Illinois, makes a proposal with this end in view. He suggests that the estates of convicted criminals be forfeited by the courts, unless there is proof the money was obtained by honest means.

If it were not for the hope of making money there would be no graft, and the motive for most kidnaping cases would be eliminated.

The suggested action would prevent a criminal, after he had served a term in prison, from benefitting financially after he had paid the penalty demanded by law.

Under the present procedure, a major law breaker may look upon his prison term, providing of course, it is not of too long duration, as part of the "overhead" which he must pay in order to reap the profits of his crime.

SWIFT REDUCTION IN HOG SUPPLY

The Department of Agriculture's report on the fall pig crop shows the greatest reduction on record—48 per cent. The reduction for the year 1934 is also without precedent—35 per cent. In actual numbers the fall pig crop is estimated at 15,432,000 head against 29,668,000 head the previous fall; and the total pig crop for 1934 is estimated at 52,922,000 against 81,757,000 in 1933.

The report shows the greatest reduction in the fall crop where drouth was most severe. Illinois reports 48 per cent of the 1933 fall crop. Iowa 40 per cent, Missouri 36, South Dakota and Kansas 35 and Nebraska 28.

Where drouth did not figure in reduction decreases are less or none at all. The little state of Delaware is the only one reporting an increase, its production being 110 per cent. Drouth has cut down the coming spring pig crop also. Estimates of number of sows to farrow next spring show a reduction of 17 per cent from the relatively small number farrowing in 1933.

It is possible, the official report says, that the reduction will be even greater on account of shortage of feed supplies and the hog-corn price ratio "about the lowest on record."

All of which reveals the quality of official foresight which proclaims extension of the policy of artificial reduction another year and taxes somebody to pay for it.

SAME OLD GAME!

Republicans, who complain about Democratic adoption of the so-called "gag" rule, which increases from 145 to 218 the number of petitioners necessary to get a bill out of committee and onto the floor, should look back only a few years to the time when they held sway under a similar arrangement.

Prior to 1931 the Republicans built up a committee-control of legislation policy under a rule demanding the same number of petitioners as the one adopted by the Democrats. Four years ago, however, Democratic strength was increased by the addition of insurgent Republican votes in a campaign to change the rule. The number was then reduced to 145, which has since prevailed.

Democrats, too, have evidenced an equal amount of inconsistency. While the Republicans held the reins the minority group was insistent upon a decrease in the number of petitioners. They were loud in their demands for liberalism, while others were in control. Like the Republicans they have forgotten all of that and are now organizing congress under the more strict regulation.

After all the matter does not present any very serious aspects on either side. If 218 representatives are not willing to fix their signatures to a petition to have the bill brought from the committee for action on the floor of the house, what chance does the bill have of being passed when brought up for discussion? The rule is used for the most part in obstructing legislation and compelling roll calls on embarrassing measures.

The present administration, however, will strengthen its control over the lower house under the "gag" rule. It already has pretty firm control over the house leaders and the rule will increase the authority of the leaders over members of the house, so that ultimately the president will be in greater control of legislation.

With Defense Counsel Reilly's cutaway coat and Hauptmann's double-breasted suit, first sartorial honors in the Flemington trial went to the defense.

The Governor Says

What Is Going On
In Harrisburg—
And Why

By GIFFORD PINCHOT
Governor of Pennsylvania

This is my last chance to speak to you through "The Governor Says." It has been a deep and genuine pleasure to talk with you week after week, to tell you what was being done at Harrisburg and why, and to give you, for what they might be worth, my thoughts on events that concerned you.

The best thing any governor can do is to keep in close touch with the people. I hope and I believe that through "The Governor Says," through the open door to my office, through my dependence on the people, and in many other ways, I have been in closer touch with you than any other governor in the history of the commonwealth.

My admiration for the self-respecting, self-controlled endurance of our people during the depression I have never had.

My desire for the safety, honor, and welfare of the people of Pennsylvania is one of the strongest desires I have ever had. May you be happy in every way during the coming four years, and may you realize from the new administration all that you hope for.

When all is said and done, politics and personalities are small things compared with the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania.

The patience, the wisdom, and the common sense that have been shown by the people of Pennsylvania during these hard years are beyond praise. Here in the greatest industrial state in the union we have had less disorder and bloodshed than in any other state. With 1,200,000 workers at one time completely out of work, the record that Pennsylvanians have made in these four years is without a parallel anywhere on earth.

You and I are members of one of the greatest commonwealths on the face of the earth. We have a right to be proud. As I leave my office I can make no better wish for you and for every other Pennsylvanian than that you and all the other members of the commonwealth may realize your highest desires.

I count myself fortunate to have been governor of Pennsylvania in these hard years. I have enjoyed my work more than I can say, and I leave it with a regret as deep as my thankfulness that the opportunity to serve you under these difficult times was vouchsafed to me.

Good luck to you in every way.

Maybe it's a coincidence, but one in five lives on the government and one in five has a car.

All Of Us

By MARSHALL MASLIN

"DOCTOR, TELL ME THE TRUTH!"

The doctor and I had quite a talk and one of the things I said was: "Doctor, why don't you and the other man in your profession tell their patients the truth? Why do you assume that they can't stand it?"

He looked at me, smilingly, and said: "Sometimes we do. If there's nothing to worry about, we tell them so and that makes them feel much better. But if they are seriously ill and we tell them so and imply that they may die, nine out of ten of them will go to pieces at once and reduce our chances of curing them."

"When I was younger and never had an ache or a pain, myself, I always told my patients the truth. But I learned that the truth isn't the best medicine for most people. . . . I remember I told one man he had a bad heart and should watch himself closely. He thought I was trying to scare him into abandoning alcohol, refused to change his way of living, went deer hunting and dropped dead. His family told me I should have 'warned' him. I told another patient he had a bad heart and it scared him to death. I told him that with proper care he might live 15 or 20 years, but he was dead in six months and I've never been able to convince myself my frankness didn't kill him. . . . So you can see the truth isn't the safest medicine we doctors can give."

A doctor of a generation ago had an easier time than we doctors of today have. He gave a patient a pill and when the sick man asked what it was for he said it was something that would put him to sleep and make him feel better. But the patients I get now want to know just what is in the pill and what it will do to their systems and why I don't give something else instead. . . . All sick people, I believe, want to have faith in their doctors these days, but the emphasis has shifted away from personal influence and trust to the direction of methods and machinery. . . . That's tough on the doctors!"

"Tell me something," said I to the doctor. "If I were sick and in danger of death would you tell me the truth? Am I the kind of person who could stand it?"

"Oh, yes," he said seriously, "I'd tell you the truth."

But there was a funny glint in his eye as he answered me—and now that I think of it, I don't believe he would!

PAST GLORIES CANNOT BE RECONCILED TO LACK OF PRESENT DEEDS

When you begin to slip in any certain line, don't expect that past achievements will enable you to retain a position of prestige.

Laurels you won in your younger days won't make a wreath or a crown to which people will continually pay homage.

A has-been does not get much credit, not even as much as he deserves.

You must keep on achieving, or you are decidedly "out."

Perhaps you have reached the place where you had hoped to ride on a wave of popularity or interest because of what you once were, but if you're nothing else to show, you are on a well-greased decline.

You think you were once a good athlete, but the fellows now care little for that if you are not active at the present.

Try to get that under the skin and you won't feel so disappointed when youth does not listen so eagerly to tales of your past prowess.

To have established a record once may get you a nod or a stare.

The present generation lives in the present.

They have no past and usually are not yet far-sighted enough to think very much of the future.

Certainly, they are not interested in your past accomplishments.

You'll have to enjoy your own past glory.

THE VOW

She vowed for better or for worse,
And to the pledge was true,
But all she faced an empty purse
Her love he never knew.

The early years were blithe and gay
With laughter and with song,
Then trouble came and day by day
Her love continued strong.

Until disaster stormed the place
He never knew that she
So bravely poverty could face
And smile so tenderly.

He knew that she had made a vow
And thought it lightly said,
But knows how much she meant it
Since luxury has fled.

Bible Thought For Today

He also that is slothful in his work is brother to him that is a great waster.—Proverbs 18:9.

Words of Wisdom

When we are understood, we always speak well, and then all your fine fiction serves no purpose.—Moliere.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 4:54. Sun rises tomorrow 7:22.

According to the State Liquor Control Board of Pennsylvania there will be a thousand or more less liquor licenses this year than last. The booze business don't seem to be so hot it seems.

After a man confesses his crime, they both feel easier, he and the police.

Personally we would rather be the Hints and Dints Man than governor of Pennsylvania during the next four years. We have several reasons for feeling that way.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A fellow named Phillips joined the party and appeared to be having the time of his life. He was surrounded by a bevy of pretty girls and his repartee was sparking, their smiles alluring.

"Just look at Phillips over there," a friend of his ventured as he looked at the object of his conversation.

"He is the center of an animated group of young women. 'I always thought he was a woman hater.'"

LITTLE BLOND BEAR

I was reading last night in the living room a bright, where wild beasts aren't likely to prowl, when a little blond bear from under my chair emerged with a terrible growl.

Like lightning he sprang each little white fang a thirteenth as it seemed, for my gore; and it flashed through my mind he was nothing behind and was perfectly naked before! Alarmed though I was by his little pink claws, and his savage and menacing air, I conquered my fright, arose in my might, and grappled the little blond bear! The uproar we made soon brought to my aid the bravest (and dearest) of mammas, and the little blond bear who gave me a scare was speedily caged in pajamas.—R. B.

Washington At A Glance

The Roosevelt Budget.
It Is Mystery To Many.

Central Press
Washington Bureau

By CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—For any individual to try to analyze the Roosevelt administration's budget program is a perfectly hopeless undertaking.

Exports may be able to comprehend it, but I doubt even that. President Roosevelt seems to understand it, and I think he does understand it to this extent:

It appears to me to have been framed with a view to keeping the pot a-boiling without boiling over until the end of the 1935-36 fiscal year. By that time the next presidential campaign already will be in its early stages. Presumably the remaining interval before election day will not be long enough for the prestige of the present White House tenant to be seriously impaired, no matter in what direction conditions may be trending by that time.

To this extent, as previously remarked, I believe the president understands his budget program, all right.

"A SEALED BOOK"
So far as I am concerned, I admit that the intricacies of scientific accountancy are a sealed book to me.

Therefore, when President Roosevelt held one of his "press conferences," to discuss his forthcoming budget message, on the eve of its delivery to congress, I tried to draw no conclusions of my own. Instead, I consulted a brother newspaper man, who, as Washington correspondent of perhaps the leading financial journal in the country, is a nationally recognized authority on fiscal subjects. I begged him, in all humility, as a personal friend of mine, to explain the administration plan to me.

My acquaintance turned to a south window in the National Press club writing room, where we were speaking to gether, and pointed out toward Washington Monument park and the Mall, with the Potomac beyond, an ice cake floating in it, here and there, and the frozen Virginia hills in the background.

ONE MAN'S VIEW
"You see," said my confidante, "that desolate vista—those bare trees?—those patches of snow in the distance?"

"Now, suppose that a couple of hundred of us, all experienced reporters, all experienced here, gathered here, and suppose that Franklin D. Roosevelt were present, describing this very scene to the party. And suppose he described it as a tropical landscape, sunlit and lovely, with carefree natives gambling underneath nodding palm trees?"

"Sixty per cent of us would be convinced that a tropical landscape was what we were looking at, and the other 40 per cent would suspect, even though we couldn't see it so, something was the matter with our eyesight, and that a tropical landscape was what it really was."

Couldn't Find Note

Reilly wanted it. A search was started. Defense Attorney Lloyd Fisher participated in the search. Half an hour later, during a recess, Fisher charged that the note could not be found. Wilentz, a bit worried, joined in the search.

Condon testified there were two notes in the large discolored envelope containing the sleeping suit. One note, addressed to Lindbergh, is the mysteriously missing missive. The other one was addressed to Condon. Condon identified this note in court and Reilly read it. He laid great stress on one sentence. It was:

"Don't lose the sleeping suit because it will cost $3 to get another." Though Reilly made no comment on this sentence at the time, Fisher said, in the recess, that it was one of the most important points yet scored by the defense.

Condon Hard Witness

Cross-examined this morning, Condon was a hard witness for Reilly. Reilly, however, brought out an interesting point when Condon admitted he did not know the present whereabouts of the box which contained the sleeping suit. "Jafsie" hadn't seen the box since the night he handed it to "John" in the cemetery with $50,000 in it. "Who made the box?" Reilly asked.

Condon said it was made by a wood carver who lived in the Bronx, but he could not remember his name.

"What!" exclaimed Reilly. "I didn't think it important," said "Jafsie."

Hauptmann Is Stoic

Brought into the court room at 9:45 a. m. Hauptmann found the court room packed, with many women even sitting on the window sills. He took his seat between a state trooper and a deputy sheriff. "I feel pretty good," he said to a reporter in response to a question. He sat there stoically, staring straight ahead. Asked what he thought of Condon's testimony he muttered:

"That man must be crazy." Justice Thomas F. Trenchard ascended the bench at 10:04 a. m. and court was called to order. After the jury was polled, Dr. Condon was called to the stand.

The court room atmosphere was tense as Edward J. Reilly, chief counsel for the defense, stepped out to cross-examine Condon.

"I think when we adjourned yesterday we were discussing a note found under a rock," Reilly began.

"Yes," replied Condon. Reilly handed Condon a note which the Bronx educator identified as the one he received March 12, 1932.

Q—In response to this note you went to a frankfurter stand and found another note.

A—Yes (identifying the second note).

Q—Now, Doctor, you note that the note under the rock bears no symbol.

A—That is right.

Q—Now describe again the trip from your house to the frankfurter stand.

A—I asked Al Reich (his bodyguard) to go with me after receiving the letter with the symbol, we drove to the front of the frankfurter stand.

Reilly asked Attorney General David J. Wilentz for a photograph of the "hot dog" stand.

Q—(Reilly)—How far was the stand from the subway station.

A—About 100 feet.

Q—Describe Meeting.

Reilly asked "Jafsie" to describe once more his first meeting with "John" and the events immediately preceding it.

"Will you stick to the points of the compass, please?" Condon ordered his cross-examiner at one point.

Reilly questioned Condon minutely on the relative position of the stand to the subway station.

There was a question just how far from the refreshment stand, and in what direction from it, the doctor and Reich paused.

"Well, I'll stand here and you tell me which way to turn."

"I didn't think it important," said "Jafsie."

Condon directed the making of the box but he could not recall the date it was built. Directions regarding how the box should be constructed were sent by "John."

Q—And there are guards in the cemetery.

A—There is a guard.

Q—You saw a guard that night.

A—Yes.

Reilly raised his eyebrows when Condon admitted he saw the guard.

Q—Did you talk to the guard that night?

A—I did.

Q—When?

A—After talking to "John."

Q—After "John" had climbed over the nine-foot fence?

A—Yes.

Q—Describe that guard.

A—He is rather stout, of German extraction. His name is Real. That is the way he pronounced it.

The big defense lawyer wanted Condon to tell him how "John" acted when he met him that night.

Q—How did the man you call "John" go over that fence that night?

A—He used two bars with his hand in a "turner" fashion—he was skilled. He was not what you would call a palooka.

Spectators Smile.

The spectators smiled at Condon's picturesque language.

Q—(Sarcastically) Well, what did he do when he got up on top of that spike?

A—He came on over.

Reilly went to the jury box, and gesturing with his hands at Condon's direction, described the way "John" went over the fence.

Dr. Condon would interject an emphatic "right" whenever he meant "yes."

Q—When the man went over the fence did the guard whistle or call or summon help?

A—No.

Q—That was rather unusual for one man to be looking through a graveyard fence at another, then for one to climb over the fence wasn't it?

A—(No answer.)

Q—Did you ever try it?

A—I was never in a graveyard at night.

Justice Trenchard severely reprimanded the spectators after the outburst of laughter which followed this answer.

Q—Didn't the guard think it unusual?

A—No.

Q—Was he in your confidence?

A—No.

Q—He saw one man climbing the fence, another outside the fence, but he gave no alarm?

A—No.

Q—The man jumped off the fence and ran away?

A—Yes.

Q—Any automobiles near there?

A—No.

Q—Dr. Al Reich go after him.

A—No. He was under my orders to stay where he was.

Q—How far did the man run.

A—100 yards.

Caught Up To Him.

Q—And you caught up with him.

A—Yes. He stopped. I took him by the left arm and escorted him to a little shack in Van Cortlandt park.

Q—Did you know the shack was there before that night.

Oh, yes.

Condon said he "took the man by the car" when he escorted him to the little shack.

"Jafsie" identified a picture of the shack. He said there was a bench outside the shack.

"I adjusted that bench that night to see if anybody was around the shack," Condon said. "Al Reich was still in the car at the cemetery."

(By Reilly)—And you say the man's collar was turned up and he was not wearing a heavy coat and he coughed.

A—Yes.

Q—Did you advise him to get some medicine.

A—I told him I'd go to a drug-store with him and get some medicine.

Q—Did you go.

A—No.

Q—Show us how the man's coat collar was turned up.

Dr. Condon gravely turned up the collar of his coat, pulling his gray head far down into it.

Reilly then asked Condon to describe the man's hat. Condon said it was a Fedora.

Q—Will you take this hat (handing the witness a brown hat) and put it on.

A—I'll take it, but I won't put it on.

Again laughter broke out. Condon said the hat Reilly gave him resembled "John's" hat.

Condon denied he ever told anybody "John" was a Scandinavian.

Q—While you were on the bench could you see Al Reich.

A—No, but I could see the car, 175 feet away.

Reilly asked what happened after Condon came back to the car, after talking to "John" for more than an hour.

"I asked Reich to drive me home," he said.

A—Did you do anything next day.

A—Yes. I went to church. It was Sunday.

Q—I mean about the case, doctor.

A—I believe I did.

Identifies Envelope.

Condon was shown a large, brown, discolored envelope. The witness identified it as the envelope which contained the baby's sleeping suit which "John" sent to him to prove he was dealing with the right party.

"I received it around the 17th of March," said Condon. "I always go to parades—that's how I remember."

Q—What station was that envelope mailed from.

A—(After a long scrutiny of the stained envelope)—I cannot make that out.

Handed another note he identified it as one he received at the same time he received the sleeping suit.

"Two notes were wrapped inside the sleeping suit. This is one of them," he said.

One of the notes in the sleeping suit was addressed to Colonel Lindbergh. Condon said. He explained he telephoned Lindbergh and told him he had received the baby's sleeping suit.

Q—Have you any independent recollection of the contents of the note?

A—What do you mean?

Q—I showed you one note. Do you remember the contents of the other?

A—The other note was addressed to Colonel Lindbergh. I don't recall what was in it—if you'd let me see it—

Q—That's just it. I want to know where it is.

suit on the piano in my home for Colonel Lindbergh to see.

Q—Have you ever seen it since?

A—No.

Q—Do you know where it is now.

A—No.

Q—I ask the attorney general for it now.

A—By Atty. General David T. Wilentz—It's among the exhibits there.

Justice Trenchard, at this juncture, interrupted to question Condon about the note to Colonel Lindbergh.

While Lloyd Fisher of defense counsel was going through the stack of state exhibits, Reilly resumed his questioning of Condon.

He held up a sleeping suit for Condon to identify. As Reilly started to walk away, with the sleeping suit, Condon suddenly asked:

"May I see that please?"

"What?"

"That"—pointing at the suit—"I haven't seen it."

The gray-haired teacher took the sleeping suit and spread it on his lap. He put on his glasses and studied it minutely. He held it up to the light and ran the suit through his fingers as though to judge the material.

When he finished this odd procedure he handed the garment back to Reilly.

Q—Have you ever seen a baby being dressed?

A—No. I have not.

Identifies Letter.

Condon was then asked to describe the wrapping of the sleeping suit. He said the garment has come bundled in heavy Manila paper.

He identified another letter, postmarked March 19, a letter which had come after the sleeping suit.

Reilly asked Condon if he had ever seen one of those sleeping suits on a child.

"Jafsie" wanted to know what the lawyer meant.

"Did you ever go to a house and see little Andrew or little Michael in one of these suits?" inquired Reilly.

"No, never," replied Condon.

Q—Do you know where the wrapping paper on the envelope which contained the sleeping suit came from?

A—I do not.

Reilly referred to a letter Condon received on March 19, 1932. He asked Condon what he did after receiving this letter and "Jafsie" replied:

"On that day? Please specify what you mean. Remember that, please."

Reilly ignored this answer. He was at the prosecution table where he was picking up two more notes.

"Here's a note postmarked April 1. Did you receive it that day?"

"I received that on or about April 2, 1932."

Q—Did you acquaint Colonel Lindbergh with that letter?

A—I asked Colonel Breckenridge to do so. He was staying at my home at that time.

Reilly read the note which was the one in which the kidnaper said to "Be ready for action" the next day—Saturday—and have the money ready.

Q—And you had the money ready the next day.

A—Yes.

Q—How many people in your group," Reilly asked.

Condon became indignant.

"What do you mean group?" he shouted.

"I mean," said Reilly, "Colonel Lindbergh, Colonel Breckenridge and you." How many in your group knew the contents of this letter?

"Just the three of us."

Q—Al Reich didn't know.

A—He did not.

Again Condon and Reilly were roaring at each other.

Asks About Box.

Reilly wanted to know all about the box which was built for the ransom money to be taken to "John" in St. Raymond's cemetery.

Q—You had this box made.

A—Yes, I planned it from a diagram based on the instructions given in the letter.

Q—Who made the box.

A—A wood carver of Webster avenue, near 108th street.

Q—What was his name.

A—I don't remember.

Q—What!

A—I don't remember.

Q—You can remember everything else about this case but you can't remember who made the box.

A—You don't need to shout at me. I can tell you if you just speak with your lips. Mr. Reilly,

"Jafsie" couldn't remember the date the box was made, either. He didn't recall whether the box had been seen since it was given to "John" with the $50,000 in it.

Q—What was the date on which this box was made.

A—I don't remember.

Q—Has the box ever been seen since it was handed over.

A—I don't know.

Q—Then I must know more about this box. Refresh your memory. Now, can't you recall the name of the wood carver who made that box.

A—No. I didn't consider that important.

Reilly and Condon were shouting at each other, staring straight into each other's eyes. Reilly demanded a minute description of the box.

A—White wood. I mixed it with other kinds of wood until I got the kind of box I wanted.

Q—What was that.

A—It was in layers. It was fine plywood.

Q—How long was it.

A—It was 6x7x14. (Six by seven by fourteen).

Condon insisted in holding his hands apart to show the measurements.

A—Did you ever go back to look for that box at St. Raymond's cemetery.

A—Yes, I heard that there was a freshly dug grave.

(Wilentz cut off Condon's reply.)

At this point a five minute recess was ordered.

your business? None of your business to grab this man to whom you paid over $50,000? You made no outcry."

"I did make an outcry."

"Did you stop the bus and get off?"

A—No.

Q—And where did Hauptmann go.

A—He ran into the woods of Pelham Bay park.

Condon was rather flustered for the first time in the blistering cross examination.

Reilly then asked if he knew an investigator, the late Val O'Farrell.

"Jafsie" said he didn't know him.

Q—Do you know a Captain Eals?

A—Yes. He lives around Coney Island. I knew him from City Island.

Q—Did you know a Mrs. Peacock?

A—She was a tenant of mine at City Island.

Q—Did you ever tell anybody that the kidnap gangs were on City Island.

A—No sir.

Receiving Letters?

Q—Did you ever tell any one you were receiving mail from the kidnapers on City Island.

A—No.

Reilly handed Condon a letter and asked if he had ever received it.

"Yes," the witness replied.

"Did it come during the ransom negotiations?"

"I don't recall."

The letter was marked for identification and then Condon identified another letter as one which had been sent to him.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women who suffered from constipation. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the bowels, causing a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, take one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at night for a week and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then—to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

SAYS INDO-VIN IS WONDERFUL

"Just What I Always Needed" States Mrs. Parkinson. Bowel and Stomach Troubles Go.

Mrs. Agnes Parkinson, 328 Haze Ave., Washington, Pa., has now come forward with her truthful statement praising the new, scientific mixture of Extracts from Medical Plants, known as Indo-Vin, which is now being introduced to crowds daily here in the city of New Castle at Eckerd's Drug Store. This remarkable statement of Mrs. Parkinson is another one of the many UNSOLICITED testimonials being received from throughout this section, endorsing Indo-Vin to all suffering people.

It reads as follows:

"I kept getting worse with my stomach all the time and finally got to where I was in CONSTANT pain and misery," said Mrs. Parkinson. "My meals would sour in my stomach and I thought my insides were going to burst. This gas would press on my heart and cause terrific pains in my chest. I would get dizzy all over and I kept having terrible sick headaches from this awful condition of my stomach. I had to take laxatives CONTINUALLY for constipation."

"I tried everything under the sun but nothing helped me until I got Indo-Vin and it has done me more good than anything else PUT TOGETHER. My meals are digesting with me. All of that awful gas misery is gone now and I never have the pains around my heart and in my chest. The dizzy spells and sick headaches have disappeared and my bowels are regulated perfectly. This medicine is the most wonderful thing of the kind that I EVER HEARD OF and I am glad to publicly endorse it to all who suffer."

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's Drug Store and sold by every good druggist in all the nearby towns throughout this whole section.

"I tried everything under the sun but nothing helped me until I got Indo-Vin and it has done me more good than everything else PUT TOGETHER. My meals are digesting perfectly now and my food agrees with me. All of that awful gas misery is gone now and I never have the pains around my heart and in my chest. The dizzy spells and sick headaches have disappeared and my bowels are regulated perfectly. This medicine is the most wonderful thing of the kind that I EVER HEARD OF and I am glad to publicly endorse it to all who suffer."

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle at Eckard's Drug Store and sold by every good druggist in all the nearby towns throughout this whole section.

Eleven Of Jury In Pottsville Trial Seated

Hope To Secure Twelfth
Juror Today In Kelayres
Massacre Case

(International News Service)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Eleven jurors had been selected today at the conclusion of the morning session in the trial of Joseph J. Bruno, Kline township Republican leader, on a charge of murder growing out of the election eve slayings of five men at Kelayres.

Three jurors were selected this morning from the special panel of 50 summoned by Sheriff T. V. Evans when the original venire of 119 talesmen was exhausted yesterday with only eight jurors in the box.

The ninth juror was Roy Stevenson, 38, of St. Clair, a railroad worker, the sixth of the special panel examined. Juror No. 10 was Stephen Jones, 35, of Shenandoah, a laborer, and juror No. 11 was Samuel Sotak, 27, an automobile mechanic, of Condale. All are married.

Twenty three of the special panel were examined before the morning session ended. It was indicated the twelfth juror will be selected this afternoon.

Ex-Servicemen May Get Restored Right

Effort Will Be Made To Have
Action Taken In Legislature

An effort will be made in the present session of the General Assembly to restore the rights of ex-servicemen in examinations for city firemen, according to J. Guy Griffith, prominent American Legionnaire, who was in New Castle Wednesday night. Mr. Griffith was here for the purpose of aiding ex-servicemen whose state bonuses have not yet been paid.

"It has always been an accepted principle that men or women who served the country in times of war were given some slight advantage in public service," said Mr. Griffith. "Pennsylvania has always done this, but the 1933 session of the General Assembly wiped out all advantages of ex-service men. As the law now is, any man over 35 cannot take the examination and the percentage allowed for service is also eliminated.

"We expect to have an act presented restoring the percentage granted and also allowing six or seven years leeway in the case of service men who apply."

Mr. Griffith has been prominent in Legion affairs since the organization of it. He is well known among the Legion men here, and following his bonus activities in the Legion Home last night there was a reception for him.

Wimer Holds Up Dance Tax Refunds

City Controller Awaits Formal
Opinion From City Solicitor On Measure

Pending a formal opinion from Solicitor Robert White, Controller Earl Wimer has refused to approve payment of refunds to proprietors of places in which beer and liquor are sold and dancing permitted. Wimer asked White, he stated, to provide him with an opinion as to whether or not the police department could legally recommend a refund from an appropriation for general revenue. Several proprietors already have sought and been refused a refund.

Council adopted a law some time ago placing a fee of $1.00 for each day dancing was allowed in any place. However, the ordinance was written in such a way that the city, upon the police department's recommendation, could recommend to council that all of the money, excepting $3.00 a month can be refunded, providing such places are operated in an orderly manner.

In his last report, Chief of Police John F. Haven, reported that all the places had been operated in an orderly manner and recommended a refund. Council concurred in the recommendation authorized the payments and it was expected the refunds would be made. However, events have turned out otherwise and the proprietors are yet without the refund.

When a News reporter conversed with the solicitor today, White said that the refund authorized is legal. Wimer said to a News reporter it was not his intention to force the full payment of $1.00 for each day dancing is allowed but instead, he wants to protect himself against any probability of surcharge.

The ordinance was aimed it is said at places wherein there was disorder and if such occurred the police could use the ordinance as a punitive measure.

WATCH KIDNEYS SAME AS BOWELS

Wash Out Your 79,200 Feet of Kidney Tubes

Your bowels contain only 27 feet of intestine, yet the kidneys contain nearly 80,000 feet of filters which would measure 79,200 feet if laid end to end. Therefore, it is just as important to watch working all the time and are Nature's chief way of taking the acids and poisons waste out of the blood.

Healthy persons pass 3 pints a day thru the bladder which contains nearly 4 pounds of waste matter. If you pass less than this amount, you are passing less than 100,000 gallons of waste matter. This is the danger signal and may be the beginning of kidney trouble. It is the cause of backache, getting up at night, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatism, need cleaning out the bowels.

Don't take chances with strong drugs and so-called "cures" which claim to fix you up in 15 minutes. Your common sense tells you that this is impossible. Treatments of this nature may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Instead of "fixing" the old reliable relief that contains no "drugs" or half-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

Welfare Meeting Planned For City

County To Join In All-Afternoon Sessions On
January 23

WILL HAVE PROGRAM IN CHRISTIAN CHURCH

New Castle and Lawrence county citizens will join public officials, civic club representatives and others in an all-afternoon welfare conference at the First Christian church on Wednesday, January 23.

Sponsored by the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania, the afternoon conferences and discussions on key problems facing the state and nation today will bring here leaders well versed in the special fields to acquaint the local audience with pertinent facts of those particular problems.

Opening at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon with a conference of all local welfare agencies, the discussions will continue until 3 o'clock when the general subject of crime prevention and delinquency will be considered. An experienced director of the Public Charities Association of Pennsylvania will lead the discussion, following which the matter will be informally discussed. At 4:15 the general subject of mental hygiene will be considered with a student of the problem in charge.

A dinner in the church basement at 6 o'clock will climax the conference with Dr. G. S. Bennett, chairman of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board, delivering the principal address on the new "County Welfare Unit Plan" for which state legislation is now in preparation.

r. Bennett is chairman of arrangements for the conference with service club representatives as his chief aides. Among them are Robert A. Eckles, Dr. A. H. Borland, Attorney Gilbert E. Long and Dr. Mildred Rogers.

From the entire county, delegations of public officials, school teachers, physicians and others are expected to come for the sessions, planned primarily to acquaint the public with problems now confronting the Pennsylvania legislature.

Valley Of The Saar Gets World's Interest

Tiny in area but large in the world's eye at the present time, the little valley of the Saar will be the focal point for the civilized nations on January 13 when a plebiscite will be taken to determine whether this district shall revert to Germany, to France or shall remain under the protectorate of the League of Nations.

In actual size the Saar measures but 784 square miles, and containing slightly more than 800,000 people. Its history goes back to the feudal days when barons ruled the lands and the people were vassals. Back as early as 1680 the Saar was French territory, under Louis the Fourteenth. He it was who founded the city of Saarbrücken and had his great engineer Vauban construct a mammoth fort for the protection of the city. France held it until 1871 lost it and regained it about a century later.

Ceded To France
Following the first defeat of Napoleon, the Treaty of Paris in 1814 ceded the Saar to France, but the next year following Napoleon's return and his defeat at Waterloo, Prussia claimed the territory and it was awarded to them. It was German until the Treaty of Versailles in 1919 when it became a matter of dispute.

Germany had ruined the French coal mines of Department Nord and Department pas de Calais and claimed not only Alsace-Lorraine where iron ore is found but the Saar where coal abounds. President Woodrow Wilson refused to agree to this whereupon Premier Clemenceau claimed a petition of 150,000 loyal Frenchmen in the Saar asking their return to France.

Impressed by this petition which he did not see, and which probably was a piece of strategic bluffing upon the part of Clemenceau, Wilson agreed to a compromise whereby the Saar would be put under the protection of the League of Nations for 15 years, during which time France was to own the coal mines as reparations for the damage to their mines by the Germans.

At the end of that time a plebiscite was to be taken in which the Saarlanders would express their preference as to their national outcome. This is the plebiscite which will be held Sunday, January 13, and in which Dr. James K. Pollock, of New Castle, and Ann Arbor, Mich., is acting as a district president.

If the vote is in favor of a return to Germany, the League of Nations has the power to declare the Saar

German territory and Germany will then have to pay in gold to France, the appraised value of the coal mines in the Saar.

If the vote is in favor of the French, which is unlikely, the Saar will become French territory. The third alternative is that the Saar elects to remain under the protection of the League of Nations.

Plant President, In Luncheon
Talk, Reviews Work Of Conferences

W. Keith McAfee, president of the Universal Sanitary Manufacturing company, reviewed the significant discussions of two of America's recent industrial conferences before the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club at The Castleton on Wednesday.

The one was the widely publicized Congress of American Industry held in New York, and the other was the assembly of the nation's business men at White Sulphur Springs. Mr. McAfee attended the New York conference and followed closely the proceedings of the White Sulphur Springs meeting.

After announcement was made yesterday that a community welfare conference will be held here on Wednesday, January 23, opening in the afternoon and continuing through until evening the Kiwanians voted to cancel their luncheon that day and to join in the welfare program dinner at night at the First Christian church. The matter was presented by G. S. Bennett, chairman of the conference arrangements.

Two new Junior Kiwanians were welcomed by the club as successors to John Thomas and Robert Miner, who for three months have attended club affairs. The new juniors are Lawrence Bennett and Robert Brown, named by Principal P. L. Orth of Senior high school. The Junior movement has been sponsored now for two years.

BLIND FOLKS HEAR NOVEL AT LIBRARY

A group of blind people and their guides gathered at the New Castle public library Wednesday afternoon and heard the first installment of the novel, "The Diary of a Provincial Lady." Four of those present heard the library's "talking book" for the first time.

Miss Alice Sterling, librarian,

says that another "talking book" recital will take place next Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 and that all blind people are welcome. Since the plot is not emphasized in the present novel those who missed the first installment will find just as much interest by attending the second.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. January 9, four arrests on charges as follows: Drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 2, and violation of parking ordinance, 2.

There is an ordinance on the city books that may cut a figure in the municipal elections this year. It provides that officers and employees whose tenure are not fixed by state law can continue to serve indefinitely unless they misbehave. It is reported that some persons who have hopes of picking plums in the shape of municipal jobs will ask candidates for whom they hustle to do away with the ordinance, if they are successful in getting office.

Bad driving conditions prevail here now and according to Chief of Police John Haven, there are three ways in which motorists can help to minimize auto accidents. They are as follows: "Regulate your speed to fit traffic conditions. Keep your car under control at all times. Obey traffic signals." In issuing a tip to pedestrians, the chief advised: "Cross at proper crossways. Obey the traffic lights."

Grading of Balph avenue, located in both New Castle and Shesapeake townships has started. However, not all of the property-owners in the township have agreed to waive claims for damages. Probabilities are they will. The RWD will furnish all the labor and the city will provide the necessary material for the job.

Reports are current that North Mercer street may be given a coat of amiesite from Sheridan avenue north to Englewood avenue. Several months ago council was asked to improve the thoroughfare. A petition asking for the improvement is now being passed, it has been learned.

It is anticipated that when council convenes Friday in city hall there will be a bill introduced relative to street improvements. It is reported that when abutting property-owners want streets improved with amiesite and curb placed they will be asked to help pay for it.

World's Checker Title Match Soon

(International News Service)
SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 10.—A leisurely no time-limit "world series" for the checker championship of this speed-dizzy hemisphere is forecast by Bernard J. McGory of Sandusky, president of the American Checker Association.

McGory says attempts are being made to bring together soon, in this country, Asa W. Long of Toledo, O., recent winner of the three-move-restriction checker championship from Newell W. Banks of Detroit, and Charles W. Stuart of Edinburgh, Scotland, world's old-line titleholder.

What American city will get the proposed title series depends on the club offering the most money for the attraction, because Stuart's expenses must be paid and a suitable purse be hung up.

McGory predicts the meet would draw at least 10,000 checker enthusiasts for from one to several days each. Play probably would run for two weeks.

How to Make Better Cough Remedy Than You Can Buy

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!
Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful cough remedy, far better than anything you

—so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago —throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure.. so much satisfaction

Early Colonial planters shipped hundreds of pounds of tobacco to England in return for goods and supplies.

*They came looking for gold
... but they found tobacco*

... and tobacco has been like gold ever since!

The tobacco raised in Virginia and exchanged for goods helped the struggling colonists to get a foothold when they came to America.

Later on, it was tobacco that helped to clothe and feed Washington's brave army at Valley Forge.

Today it is tobacco that helps—more than any other commodity raised in this country—to pay the expense of running our Government.

In the fiscal year 1933-34 the Federal Government collected $425,000,000 from the tax on tobacco. Most of this came from cigarettes—six cents tax on every package of twenty.

Yes, the cigarette helps a lot—and it certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Smokers have several reasons for liking Chesterfields. For one thing, Chesterfields are milder. For another thing, they taste better. They Satisfy.

SAAR IS QUIET AS ELECTION DAY NEARS

Demonstrations Are Prohibited

League May Postpone Vote If Any Disturbances Are Developed

DIPLOMATS ARRIVE TO WATCH ELECTION

(International News Service) SAARBRUECKEN, Saar Territory, Jan. 10.—With public demonstrations and ballyhoo forbidden beginning today, the Saar approached Sunday's plebiscite with all factions waging a bitter "whispering campaign" whose surface calm belied the nervousness underneath.

Commanders of the international army of 3500 kept all available forces at their stations to prevent pen-up feelings from bursting out into disorders.

The outstanding complaint of pro-Germans today was the revelation that the bulk of the troops and police had been moved over towards the German frontier of the Saar.

Propaganda, otherwise restricted to word-of-mouth, found its most powerful outlet in the partisan press. Socialist, Communist and Catholic newspapers, favoring continuation under the rule of the League of Nations, hammered away with allegations of Nazi terrorism, complaining that 200 persons have been executed under Hitler.

May Postpone Vote
Geneva, Jan. 10.—There are any serious disturbances during the Saar plebiscite Sunday, the League of Nations council may step in, interrupt the voting, and postpone the referendum for several weeks until more troops can be called in. This was learned by International News Service today as grave-count tenanted diplomats began arriving today for tomorrow's council meeting to watch over the plebiscite. "We are determined to stand on no nonsense in the Saar," one high league official said.

Nice Lump Sum.
Our System Changes.
Button-Pushing Days.
Fast Talking.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

CONGRESS will give President Roosevelt a lump sum, a considerable amount of four thousand million dollars, to let him change from the system of doles and imitation jobs, "picking up leaves and pieces of paper," to real jobs and useful work.

WE HAVE no monopoly of the handing out money system in America.

The British government assumes responsibility for the care and maintenance of every able-bodied wage worker, insured or not insured, whose wages, when he works, are less than twenty-five dollars a week.

Seventeen million British wage earners will get enough pay from the government, in cash, to bring their incomes up to "a living standard" and idle workers will receive from the government cash on which to live, as a matter of right and decency, with no "charity stigma."

THE AMERICAN system undergoes a considerable change. Once the little boy was encouraged to stoop down, pick up a pin, get a job from the great businessman, marry the daughter, own the firm, pile up millions of his own.

Now, if he does that he is "overprivileged," and must expect to have his money taken away from him. Instead of picking up pins, he is encouraged to wait until he can pick up an easy job on the theory that the world owes him a living, and he doesn't owe anybody anything.

That may develop a better race of Americans, and it may not develop a better race. The days of "pin-picker-up" today, head of the firm next year, are ended.

A DAY is coming when no man will do any work harder than pressing a button, and science, incidentally, will make crime obsolete.

For instance, the Jailer, Ill., jailer sent a fat "trusty" outdoors for a cigar, and the automatic "electric eye" at the gate saw him, flashed a light, and the innocent fat "trusty" was searched. A small metal shoe-horn was found in his big loose shoe.

The electric eye flashes when anybody, passing the gate, has any sort of metal in his possession. No prisoner's friend hereafter can take in a pistol, file or steel saw.

WHAT WILL happen in evolution when the hardest work will be button-pushing, all manual labor being done by machinery, man needing only a brain, no muscles?

Will women remain big in size to reproduce the race, and men dwindle until they resemble the male "parasite crab"? When you capture a "parasite crab" in deep sea water it is always a female.

You will find her husband under one of her fingers, where she keeps him, and nourishes him.

That might happen to men—things as strange have happened. The little tree shrew is the ancestor of the whale, ninety feet long, and it might work the other way.

HOW RAPIDLY do you talk? Very deliberate peasants, slow in thought, speak as slowly as thirty to forty words a minute, with a vocabulary of fewer than five hundred words. Some talk normally at an average rate of two hundred and twenty words a minute, and will tell you that their wives can out-talk them.

An official court reporter at the Hauptmann trial says the proceedings have averaged one hundred and eighty words a minute, fastest record in American criminal court records.

When Betty Gow was on the stand the speed went up to two hundred and fifty words a minute. That was not very fast for a young Scotch woman, angered by questions of the defense.

THE LONDON Daily Herald reports that forty young Manchukuoans between sixteen and seventeen years of age were executed in Harbin for "plotting against Japan." To inspire terror the forty were executed in public.

To such executions, performed in China usually with a heavy sword that chops off heads, the victims submit meekly, kneeling down, not shackled, awaiting their turn. Nothing exciting about public executions of that kind. In ancient days, when the condemned were sometimes saved in two lengthwise, it was different.

RIOTS in Mexico, five shot in attacks by students on the anti-Catholic Mexican "Red Shirts" that recently attacked and unarmed men and women in church. Other rioting and shooting indicate a disturbed condition. The whole world is unsettled. Here, at least, we let religion alone, religion does not meddle with the state, and, as yet, there is no shooting.

BRICKLAYERS TO ENJOY BANQUET

In the clubrooms of the Tigers club, South Mill street, bricklayers and masons of Lawrence county will enjoy their annual banquet at 8 o'clock this evening.

The principal speakers of the evening include Mayor Charles B. Mayne and W. Leslie Wilson, executive of the RWD at New Castle. The fete is open to any bricklayer or mason in the county regardless of union affiliations.

DONATE BOOKS

Gifts of books were received at city public library in December from Zella Miller, Mrs. Ella Morrow, N. K. Reid, P. L. Rude and the Department of Internal Affairs.

On Court House Hill

J. Rowland Moore, of Pulaski township has furnished bond in the sum of $3250, as tax collector for the township.

The board of appeals will sit on Monday, January 14 for Taylor, Union, Washington, Wayne and Slippery Rock townships. This will complete the sittings for the boroughs and townships.

On the traverse jury summoned for the trial of common pleas cases beginning next Monday there are 15 women and 45 men. The women are all classed as housekeepers. Among the other occupational designations are fifteen laborers, six carpenters, four millworkers, four carpenters, one druggist, one welder, one potter, one musician, one mason, two salesmen and one retired.

There is considerable sentiment in favor of the county commissioners purchasing more land for the county home. At present there is only about twenty-four acres, and with 175 inmates of the county home, it is believed that many of them could be profitably employed in gardening. Last year 750 bushels of potatoes were raised, and considerable other garden products and small fruit, such as strawberries and raspberries. Many of the men who are now in the home are able to work, if the county had anything to put them at. More land would be a solution that would be self liquidating.

While no old age pensions have yet been secured through the trustees of the Mothers Assistance board, some of the investigations have been completed, and the indications are that applicants will receive pensions here as soon as any others in the state. Members of the board are making personal investigations of the applicants. They do not receive any compensation for their time and labor. When it is considered that there are over thirteen hundred applications on file at the Lawrence county office it will be seen that the ladies have a big job on their hands.

County Controller R. C. McCaslin is making up a budget which will be commissioners have the estimates laid before them they will be able to figure out the tax levy for next year. An effort will be made to hold it down to the lowest amount possible.

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has completed a court calendar for the year 1935. It shows that return days will be on the first Monday of each month, with the exception of September, when return day will fall on the second Monday.

Common pleas court terms will begin on Mondays as follows: January 14; January 21; February 11 and 18; April 1, 8 and 22; October 7 and 14, and November 12.

Personal to Women!

Regulate Normal Functions This New, Quick, Natural Way

Kelp-A-Malt
Kelpamalt's NATURAL IODINE And Vital Minerals Often Bring Amazing Relief from Weakness, Pain and Irregularities. When All Else Fails!
Thousands of weak, rundown women all over the country who suffer periodic misery, cramps, weakness and irregularity of normal functions are finding wonderful relief with Kelpamalt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea. One woman writes: "I want to tell you of the benefit I have received from Kelpamalt. I am now sure about it. For 11 years I have suffered abnormal periods—sometimes even hemorrhages—caused by a strain. After I began using Kelpamalt I noticed a change. After my second experience, it caused me to wonder if Kelpamalt was not causing the lessening of my trouble. Now after my third experience with Kelpamalt, I have seen such a marked change I am sure that Kelpamalt deserves all the credit. I am so thankful for the benefit. It means so much to me. And if this letter will result in any benefit to other suffering women, I am happy for you to use it." —Mrs. G. S. Skowhegan, Me.
Kelpamalt gets right to the cause of trouble in this case. For years specialists have known of the vital importance of iodine in the relief of female disorders. It has been found that an adequate supply of iodine is necessary for the proper functioning of the thyroid, ovaries and the uterus and other vital glands. All women require generous quantities of iodine and other minerals to make up the monthly loss. Adolescent girls and adults during the menopause especially require iodine in excess of the normal daily intake. Inadequate iodine deficiency may lead to a host of serious ailments.
Kelpamalt, the new mineral concentrate from the sea, is the richest known source of assimilable iodine—NATURAL PLANT IODINE (the same that is found in small quantities in spinach and other vegetables), not the common chemical form of iodine which often proves so irritating to the system. Kelpamalt is 1300 times richer in NATURAL IODINE than oysters, hitherto considered the best source. Six tablets contain more of this iodine than 465 lbs. of spinach.
This precious substance, together with Kelpamalt's other vitally essential natural minerals, combine to bring about a remobilization of the female organs, making possible normal, easy, regular function. With this relief from periodic misery comes new strength, health and vitality.
Start Kelpamalt today. It is unlike anything you have ever used. It leaves no irritating after-effects and has already given glorious relief to thousands of distressed women. Costs but a few cents a day to use. Get it today.

Chicago Police Question Suspect In 1929 Massacre

Believe Bryon Bolton, 36, Gave "Signal" That Started Massacre Of Seven Men

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Hunted for nearly six years as the suspected "finger man" in the St. Valentine's day massacre of seven gangsters here in 1929, Byron Bolton, 36 years old, was questioned at length today by federal investigators and police.

Bolton was captured Tuesday night by federal raiders who trapped and shot to death Russell
Gibson, member of the Alvin Karpis-"Doc" Barker gang, and a suspect in the $200,000 Edward Bremer kidnaping. Bolton was hiding in Gibson's apartment.

Gave Signal

From a rented room across from the North Clark street massacre garage Bolton is believed to have given the signal which sent Capone gunmen into the building to mow down the seven "Bugs" Moran gangsters, according to Police Lieutenant William Gusack.

Harold Nathan, assistant to J.
Edgar Hoover, head of the division of investigation of the Department of Justice, announced that Bolton had fled Chicago immediately after the St. Valentine's day massacre.
Bolton, who first gave the name of Wille Harrison, St. Louis golf professional, has lived at Virden, Ill., and Springfield, Ill.

School Study Forms Principals' Subject

Westminster Professors Lead
Informal Discussion Here
Last Night

Should girls and boys develop their study habits while in elementary school, in high school or in college, or at just what age should the study habit be developed?

That perplexing question formed the problem which the Lawrence County Principals' association analyzed informally at their January meeting in the Greer building office of County Superintendent John C.
Sylvan last night.

Leading the discussion were two Westminster college faculty men,
Dr. Burr and Dr. Cooper, who also spoke on the subject of "How to Study." Both speakers brought stimulating messages.

The principals were told that the annual Northwestern Pennsylvania Inter-School Music contest this year will be held in New Castle on April 12 and 13, that the state musical contest, held last year in Johnstown, would be held in Oil
City on April 26 and 27.

Dates have not been decided upon for the county elimination contests.

years before the United States went to war with Mexico, and the match was so new it was a novelty.

Today Mrs. Emma McCallister is quietly celebrating her birthday at 1012 Croton avenue.
Seated in a comfortable arm chair she took a News representative with her back into the pages of history.
She talked slowly, deliberately, and surprising command of details.

"I was born in Madisonville, Kentucky," she said, "And as near as I can figure it was ninety-nine years ago. I might be older than that but I know that I am not younger."
My mother and father and some other Negro people were the slaves of George and Jim Whetzel, who

Shipping Losses Run Into Millions

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A gray, clammy fog which enveloped the Atlantic seaboard today from Wilmington, N. C., to Cape Race, Newfoundland, brought losses by shipping interests to more than $1,000,- 000, marooned more than 2,500 passengers on incoming liners within ten miles of New York's skyscrapers, and continued to keep all planes, passenger and mail, grounded at eastern air ports.

No quick lifting of the fog, now in its fourth day, was expected at the New York weather bureau.

Only one mail plane has left Newark airport in four days. On Monday afternoon a plane cleared for Cleveland. Since then none has left and none has arrived.

Condors are devouring thousands of baby alligators, less than a foot long, which now swarm the banks of the Orinoco River in South America.

Arkansas' governor, J. M. Futrell, stipulated that hunters should qual-killing at least one hawk, enemy of

THESE PICTURES SHOW Modern Three-Minute Way to Ease Sore Throat

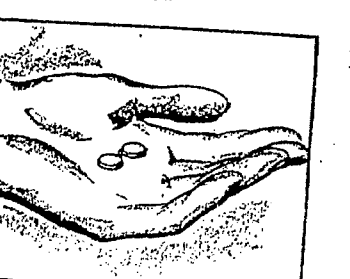

Ease Pain, Rawness, Soreness
Almost Instantly

1. Crush and stir 3 BAYER Aspirin
Tablets in 1/2 glass of water.

2. Gargle Thoroughly—throw your head way back, allowing a little to trickle down your throat. Do this twice.
Do not rinse mouth.

3. If you have a cold, take 2 BAYER Aspirin Tablets. Drink full glass of water. Repeat if necessary according to directions in package.

HERE'S a safe, modern and effective way to relieve sore throat. A way that eases the pain, rawness and irritation in as little as two or three minutes!

Millions are now following this way. Doctors are advising it. Try it. Results are quick and amazing.

Simple To Do

All you do is crush and stir 3
BAYER Aspirin Tablets in a third of a glass of water. Gargle with it twice—as pictured here. (If you have signs of a cold, take BAYER Aspirin tablets and drink plenty of water.)

Get real BAYER Aspirin Tablets for this purpose. They disintegrate completely enough to gargle without leaving irritating particles.

BAYER Aspirin prices have been decisively reduced, so there's no point now in accepting other than the real Bayer article you want.

"That house gives me the 'jitters.'" You, no doubt, have used this same expression. Perhaps, to describe the home of one of your personal friends. Others, perhaps, have made the same remark about your home. Of course, what the expression really means is that the house is uninviting, cold, drab, dead.
It's such a simple thing to make a house live and breathe—to make it sparkle with life and good cheer. A dash of color here—another color there—quickly changes the entire appearance of a room. The nice part of it all is that, by using NU-ENAMEL, you can make these changes yourself. NU-ENAMEL can be applied over old paint—leaves no brush marks—and one coat is all that is needed.
You know the things in your home that give you the "jitters." Why not brighten them up today with NU-ENAMEL.

What is NU-ENAMEL

NU-ENAMEL is compounded under a private formula prepared after years of extensive research. Its base is an Oriental oil product extracted from the fruit or nuts of a tree growing in China. For centuries the ancient Chinese have used this oil with amazing results for protecting exposed surfaces. The sacred idols of the temples and other precious wood-carvings are shielded from decay, as well as boats and bridges. World famous research chemists have long attempted to use this Oriental oil as a base for enamel and paint. NU-ENAMEL succeeded, and, as a result, NU-ENAMEL possesses my distinctive features over old paint. (2) One coat is all that is required.
(3) Leaves no brush marks. (4) No unpleasant odors. (5) Dries quickly. (6) Makes hard, glossy finish. (7) Easily cleaned. (8) Colors remain sharp.

By ARTHUR C. WIKER, Special Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—Federal government expenditures on veterans and their dependants during the fiscal year of 1934 ended last June thirtyth were greater in Pennsylvania than in all but two states, Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, reports.

Such disbursements in the Keystone state aggregated $33,272,339 during the year. Such expenditures were larger in only two states, amounting to $41,106,667, in New York and $38,868,048 in California. These disbursements represented total veterans outlays, including direct and indirect benefits and operation and construction costs at all facilities maintained by the Veterans Administration.

Ohio followed Pennsylvania as fourth of the states, such disbursements there aggregating $30,132,155.

In West Virginia such expenditures amounted to $5,628,549.

Yesterday he was released, but was arrested on charge of assault on a battery following an argument with Lewis Emerick, Sharpsville. He was sentenced to serve 10 days in the Mercer jail.

But, before he left for Mercer, he was united in marriage to Ruth Emerick, daughter of Mrs. Eva Emerick, by Justice Young.

St. Michaels Stage Great Rally In League Game To Take 36 To 31 Victory

BALLA-MOTSKO HIGH SCORERS

St. Michaels of New Castle, coached by Michael "Jake" Babovsky, came from behind at the Youngstown floor last night to upset a highly touted St. Johns team of Campbell, O., for a 36 to 31 victory in the Penn-Ohio church league. Balla and Molsko brought the St. Michaels through with flying colors. The St. Michaels are the leaders of the league.

For the first three periods of the game the St. Michaels were outplayed by the Ohioans, with a score of 8, to 3 at the first period and 15 to 10 at the half. The third period ended 24 to 12 in favor of the St. Johns team. It was in the last ten minutes of play that Balla, the great St. Michaels forward, went into action and made six field goals and two fouls for 14 points and with it went the morale of the Campbell team. Molsko helped out considerably with two field goals and five fouls. Chernyavsky played his customary fine game and kicked in with six points, as did J. Klesnick.

The entire St. Michaels team played a smart brand of basketball and deserve credit for the phenomenal stand that brought them thru in the final period after being topped double by their opponents. The crowd was unanimous in praise of the St. Michaels for the rally that brought them 24 points in the closing stanza, after the game had apparently been lost. The Campbell team could score but seven points in the fourth period.

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAKER, JR.

Ed. Krause, former basketball and football star at Notre Dame, is playing basketball this winter with the Duffy Florals, a fast independent team of Chicago. In his debut with the team Krause scored 21 points. 307,563 boxing fans paid $405,969 to watch fights in Chicago during 1934. The Illinois state treasury and the federal government each received approximately $40,596 as revenue from the 179 professional boxing shows staged in the city of Chicago. During the six games played by the Northwestern basketball team prior to the opening of the Big Ten, Lyle Fisher, 6-foot 2-inch forward, scored 108 points for an average of 17 and a fraction points per game. Jay Gerwanger, all-American football star of the Chicago Maroons, is the leading track candidate on the Midway. Last season he proved to be sort of a one-man team, being active in all the running and field events except the distance races.

The Western Conference all-time scoring record in basketball was set in 1933 by Joe Reiff of Northwestern, who scored 187 points. In setting his mark Reiff averaged slightly under 14 points per game. The 25-year Hoosier basketball rivalry between Notre Dame and Butler U. up to and including last season stands at 12 wins for the Irish and 10 for Butler. Paul Ruppert was given the No. 1 position on the all-American golf team for 1934, announced recently by Olin Dutra, national open champ. Other members of the team, listed in order of their ranking, are as follows: Ky. Laffoon, Harry Cooper, Tommy Armour, Gene Sarazen, Earl Smith, Wilf Cox, Bobby Cruickshank, Jimmy Thompson and Craig Wood. The highest salary ever paid by the St. Louis Cardinals, was $30,000, counting additions, to Rogers Hornsby in 1926. Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, former American and British women's golf champion, has won 750 prizes.

Apparently major league managers are of the opinion that high-priced rookies aren't worth the risk. At any rate, the days of fancy bidding seems to be gone. Strand cost the Athletics $75,000; Chicago paid $100,000 for Kamm and $120,000 for Cissell. In contrast to these prices we find that Babe Ruth cost Boston only $5,000; the Cards paid less than that for Bottomley; Miller Huggins grabbed Rogers Hornsby for $400, and Ty Cobb cost Detroit only $800. Eddie Collins and Lou Gehrig came directly to the majors from Columbia University. Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, once declared, "The best player I ever had cost me next to nothing. A guy gave me Sam Rice, Bucky Harris set me back $2,500, and Ossie Bluege cost only $3,500. Call up the Union Station and ask how much a railroad ticket from Coffeyville, Kan., cost in 1907 and you'll know how much Walter Johnson cost."

Max Baer caught and released an attic bat in the lobby of an exclusive Del Monte, Cal., hotel when he was visiting there. Three bellboys and a porter were required to chase it out of the building. Bobby Cruickshank, the golfer, once sank a 20-foot putt while playing in a tournament, but the ball popped out when a bullfrog on which it had landed hopped out. Night harness racing has drawn as many as 24,000 spectators at Anderson, Ind. The all-star baseball game last summer celebrated the 30th anniversary of organized sport in New York. It started with bowling on the green and cock fighting. Sixteen years ago Frankie Boucher, New York Rangers hockey star, was a member of the North-west mounted police. Babe Ruth once beat Walter Hagen by two strokes in nine holes. It happened at Florida in 1930 and the score was 36-38.

Warner Visits Home On Coast

(International News Service) PALO ALTO, Cal., Jan. 10.—Glenn S. ("Pop") Warner, football coach at Temple, returned to his old stamping grounds today. Warner's Palo Alto home overlooks Stanford University where he coached several years before moving to Temple last season. The "Old Fox" indicated quite emphatically he was not "looking for" any post-season games with Pacific Coast teams.

New Castle At Ellwood Friday

New Castle And Ellwood City Will Play Sectional Game At Ellwood

Friday night at the Ellwood City High school floor, the New Castle High School basketball team, Section Three contenders, will contest with Benedict's boys.

New Castle and Ellwood City have dropped two straight sectional battles and Friday night the tie must be broken. One or the other will be on the bottom of the heap Saturday.

New Castle has been defeated by Ambridge and New Brighton, by scores of 19 to 16 and 21 to 16. Ellwood City has been defeated by Beaver Falls and Aliquippa.

Both Coaches Bridenbaugh and Benedict will probably shake-up the lineups for tomorrow night in an effort to get a winning combination. New Castle Reserves will play at Ellwood City, in the preliminary game.

Floor Officials Are Denounced By Eastern Coaches

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Need of standardized officiating at collegiate basketball games, aggravated in recent weeks by severe criticism hurled at officials of two major inter-collegiate games, comes to a head today with the announcement that eastern members of the national basketball committee have been invited to attend the doubleheader at Madison Square Garden next Wednesday.

In the current series of games, New York university seeks to continue its unbroken string against Temple and Pittsburgh meets Fordham in the second game.

Coach Adolph Rupp of Kentucky, whose team lost to NYU on a foul shot in the closing minute of play last Saturday, did not mince words in denouncing the officiating. He did not hesitate to say that had a Southeastern Conference referee been calling them at the Garden his boys would have beaten the Violet team decisively.

Three Games At "Y" On Friday

No League Games Are Scheduled, Three Non-League Battles Planned

Three fast basketball games will be played at the "Y" floor Friday night, it was announced by Henry MacNicholas, physical director of the "Y" today. There will not be any league games played this week.

In the first game, a non-league affair, the First Christians will play the strong Geisons quintet. This game should be good, as the lineups of both teams are dotted by former high school stars.

The second game will find the First M. E. and the New Castle High Seniors playing. In the third and final game the great St. Michaels team of New Castle will play the St. Ann's, with a number of former Westminster college and ex-high stars in the lineup, hope to stop the winning streak compiled by the Babovskymen in the past 10 or 15 games.

Joe Louis Will Battle Birkie At Pittsburgh

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Jan. 10.—Hans Birkie, German-American heavyweight, was to arrive here today to begin preparations for his bout tomorrow night with Joe Louis, Detroit negro, whose meteoric ring career has brought him to the forefront of heavyweight fighting contenders.

Louis has been working out daily here, and is believed to be in perfect condition for his battle with Birkie. The 20-year-old Detroit fighter is anxious to continue his unbeaten record, which includes 10 knockouts in 13 fights.

Birkie has met a host of formidable opponents in his ring career, among them Primo Carnera, Art Lasky and Steve Hamas. Interest in his battle with Louis, who is making his first appearance here, has indicated a capacity crowd for their engagement tomorrow night.

Golf League To Start Parties

Shenango Tin Mill Team Will Be Host To Golfers January 23

Arrangements for a series of parties to be held at the Municipal course club house during the balance of the winter, were made at a meeting held last evening in the city council chambers. The first of these will take place on January 23, when the Shenango Tin Mill team will be hosts.

The parties will be similar in nature to those which the league has sponsored during the past two seasons, and will consist of a program of entertainment with cards and a lunch.

Sacred Hearts, Collegians Win

Sacred Hearts Upset Tigers Club, 38 to 12, And Slippery Rock Tops Epworth

In two non-league games played at the "Y" floor last night the Sacred Hearts of the New Castle church league defeated the Tigers club of the South Side 38 to 12 in a lopsided battle. The game was featured by the fast attack of the Hearts. At the half the score was 18 to 5. Gallagher and T. Cooper led the Sacred Hearts in scoring.

In the second game the Slippery Rock Collegians upset the Epworth M. E. team of the New Castle church league 24 to 21 in a hard fought, close battle. The score at the half was 15 to 10 in favor of the Slippery Rockians. McLure and Reed were the high scorers of the game.

Grove City To Tackle Fenn On Friday Evening

(International News Service) GROVE CITY, Jan. 10.—The Crimson cagers take on a new opponent here Friday evening, when Fenn College will send a veteran outfit from Cleveland to provide Grove City's second game of the season. It will be the first of three trips to Western Pennsylvania for the Penn Foxes, who will tackle Thiel and Allegheny later in the campaign.

Balked of victory in the opener last week, the Grovers have put in some strenuous licks this week, and Coach Bob Thorn is satisfied that the squad is showing progress. He has been giving much attention to Howard Swanson, freshman center, this week, and although the veteran Patterson is slated to start, the Long Island youth may break in if the upper-class combination fails to click.

Three Games In County League

Bessemer And New Wilmington Will Fight For League Lead Friday

First place will be at stake in the Bessemer and New Wilmington high basketball battle at the New Wilmington high floor Friday night. Neither team has lost a county league battle this year.

This is easily the feature game on the County High school card for Friday. The other two games will find Union at East Brook, and Shenango at Mt. Jackson. Shenango is also an unbeaten league team so far this year and the Ramnemen have hopes of adding Mt. Jackson to the list of victims tomorrow night.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Those who believe that there is a big profit in baseball may have a different opinion after reading the report of Philip K. Wrigley, president of the Chicago Clubs, which says that loss for the club for the past three years totals $600,000. The loss last year was $200,000. He assigned three major reasons for the loss, namely, falling off in attendance, generous salaries to the players and a big cash expenditure for the purchase of stars who failed to click. He added that his job as president of the team and director of its policies would be to restore the club to a paying proposition.

William Tilden spoiled George Lot's professional debut at Madison Square garden, New York, last night when he beat the Chicagoan 6-4, 7-5. Lot was beaten but was not disgraced. He played before a critical audience of 16,000, on a surface and under lights to which he was unaccustomed yet forced the old master to flash his best tennis.

Wendell Wilson, freshman coach for the past four years at Illinois, has been elevated to a varsity position in charge of the backs and ends. He succeeds Mott Olander, who resigned.

Ray Impellitteri, a bigger but less exploited fighter than Max Baer, has been signed by Chicago boxing promoters to fight Max Baer, heavyweight champion in a 10-round bout March 18. Ray is known as the "Towering Imp" because he stands 6 feet 7 1/2 inches tall and weighs 275 pounds.

The San Francisco unit of the Shriners hospital for Crippled Children at San Francisco will receive more than $35,000, net profit from the tenth annual East-West football game there New Year's day, according to William M. Coffman, director of the game.

Maxie Baer May Battle Sharkey

Baer Signed For Fight In Boston In June, Is Reported Today

(International News Service) BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Max Baer, world's heavyweight champion, will defend his title in this city in June, the first heavyweight championship bout to be staged here in years.

Baer, who meets Dick Madden, Roxbury heavyweight, tonight in a four-rounder, has signed a contract held by Rip Valenti, local promoter, and Jack Dempsey, to meet an opponent, who will be named a month before the June bout in Fenway park or Braves field.

While reports were rife as to who will be Baer's opponent, one persistent rumor that Jack Sharkey, former champion, may be enticed back into the ring to meet the fighter-actor.

Titans To Play Waynesburg On Saturday Night

Westminster To Face Difficult Foe On New Wilmington Floor

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 10.—The first real test since December 27 is being enjoyed by the Westminster College basketball team, but the Titans must face an important district foe Saturday night when Frank Wolf's Waynesburg Yellow Jackets appear here.

The Titans completed their sixth game of 11 days Monday night when they defeated Slippery Rock, and Coach John Lawther believes the team will play better ball Saturday night after two light drills on Tuesday and Wednesday and a stiff scrimmage Thursday night.

The Jackets play Geneva at Beaver Falls on Friday night, and then journey on here for Saturday's contest. While Waynesburg does not have Janosik and Currie, two great stars of last season's team, the Jackets have always been an outstanding team on the Titan schedule and Saturday night's game is listed as one of the best on the Titan court card along with the Geneva game to be played February 6.

Bouldin, Brown, and McCracken are three stars which the Jackets will start against the Westminster five. The Jackets have won four and lost one so far this season, and will come to New Wilmington primed to upset the Titans.

Coach John Lawther will probably start Bennett and Krivosh at forward, Backus at center, and Hurst and Wilhelm at guard. Now that a leg injury has healed, Krivosh should develop into an outstanding performer for the Titans. Ray Sweeney, Jack Williams, Morgan Rudick, Arrowsmith, McCormack, Demo, and other members of the squad will also be available.

Temple Beats Penn State In Extra Period

(International News Service) STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Jan. 10.—Temple University's basketball record for the current season was still unblemished today, after being closely pressed by the Penn State quintet, the latter team losing an over-time game last night by a score of 35-33.

State led at the half, 16-15, but the Temple squad came back in the second half and took the lead until the final seconds of play, when State tied the score. With the count knotted at 31 points apiece, the two teams fought it out in the extra period.

Goals by Rosan, who was high scorer of the game, and Casper, insured victory for the unbeaten Owl aggregation.

Stock Market

Is Dull Today

Main Body Of Stocks Hold Around Closing Prices From Wednesday's Market

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The stock market was a rather dull affair today as the main body of issues held around their previous closing levels. Continental Can rose about a point to a new high for 1934-1935 and Gillette rose more than a half point to its best levels in some months.

Utility shares were disappointing. Consolidated Gas ruled slightly lower while other utility favorites were virtually unchanged. Sluggishness continued in the railroad. Atchafalaya sold down about a half point.

In the prime industrials, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and American Can held around yesterday's final prices. Metal shares were dull and slightly easier. General Motors and Chrysler were firmer.

Rayons were firmer, but tobacco stocks were inclined to work lower. Aviation, chemicals and specialties were dull.

Finishing Trims Inspection Five To Tie For Lead

Captain Barnes And Lasso Lead Fast Attack To Win By 33-18 Score

MECHANICS SURPRISE COLD DRAW CAGERS

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 10.—Finishing passers, defenders of the Shelby Inter-department Basketball league crown, in the final game, took command of the situation from their old jinx, the Inspection, in an impressive manner by winning 33-18. The Mechanical team administered the second surprise to the fast Cold Draw quintet by eking out a 29-28 victory in an exciting contest at the auditorium last night.

The Finishing team was practically unstopable last night. They nearly had the ball all evening and seemed like an inspired team. Their game was of championship caliber as very few shots were wasted. They took command of the situation from the opening whistle and never relinquished their grip. The champions kept adding to their lead as the game progressed. The score was 9-1 at the end of the first quarter, 18-8 at the half, 27-13 in the third quarter, and 33-18 in the final quarter. Tom Barnes and Lasso were the big guns in the Finishing attack. Freidhoff and Rossman were best for the losers.

In view of the result of the second game of the evening, the league is looked upon with a new light. Cook last week in the initial game, the Cold Draw was surprised with a setback at the hands of the Office and last night they had a similar experience with the Mechanical team. This practically eliminated them from first half honors. After trailing 16-10 in the initial stanza, the Mechanics came up to lead 15-14 at the half and 20-18 in the third quarter. The contest swayed back and forth in the last period with the Mechanics finally getting the edge. The work of "Red" Tomei was sensational as he alone counted for 13 points. Leyda and Clyde were outstanding for the losers.

The Inspection Bar Mill holds the cellar position but they caused all the teams considerable anguish. The standing of the teams is as follows:

Ellwood High To Meet New Castle On Friday Night

Blue And White Hopes To End Supremacy Of Bridenbaughmen Tomorrow

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 10.—Lincoln gym is expected to be filled to capacity on Friday night when Ellwood City high and New Castle high will clash in one of its two annual basketball games.

The game tomorrow bears more interest to local people than it has anytime in the past four years, as both teams seemed to be evenly matched. Both have failed to win a section three game in two starts. The loser tomorrow night will have the sole cellar position.

Nothing will please the locals so much as a victory over the red and black. Having the advantage of playing on their home floor, the Blue and Whites feel that they will not have the cellar position after tomorrow night.

Senior Class Play Delights Large Audience

Gretta Lemery, Joe Hasbach, Gertrude Jones, William Tinker Are Impressive

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 10.—Talent, class, unusual ability and capable directing were in evidence, on Wednesday evening when the near by Senior graduating class of the local high school delighted a large and appreciative audience with the play "Skidding" in the Lincoln auditorium.

It was one of the most successful of the type ever given here. From the standpoint of story, performance, and ability to hold the interest of the audience it would rival any production of the past for honors. All in all it is a distinct credit to the class committee for the selection of the play to the cast of ten for a truly remarkable performance, and to the directing ability of Arthur Webster and Miss Beatrice Brunton of the high school faculty.

The play was of a type that featured an unusual amount of humor and interest that depicted the life of a young modern American family. The entire cast displayed an unusual histrionic ability. The practical, humorous, and serious parts of the play were clearly brought out and appreciated by the audience. Each of the ten characters had an important part in the production and left an undeniable impression on the assemblage.

Interesting Plot

The play and its plot had to do with Judge James Hardy and his family and life at his home as he strived for re-election to the bench. The Judge having attained the reputation of being stern, but a dignified, honest and wise man after 20 years service, was overruled in his campaign for re-election.

The high school orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Paul Winter provided some excellent music between acts. Just before the last act, President Mathey Buzard in behalf of the class thanked the local merchants and people and the several class committees for their contributions, time, and effort in making the affair a success. He also expressed their appreciation to the directors.

The Judge persisting in his policy of honesty and integrity was doomed to defeat, but he still had a chance of attaining the supreme demands of federal men, which again jeopardize his policy. The judge again refused and resigned himself to his fate.

In the meantime his two married daughters began to find things not all to agreeable at the Judge's home and finally reported to the actions. Mrs. Hardy returned at this moment and was received with open arms. She had come with good news to the two daughters and sent them home to beg forgiveness of their waiting husbands. The reason for their leaving their husbands, was that one was not receiving enough attention and the other too much. Judge Hardy, in the argument when the wayward wives had first come had remarked, "too bad you ladies couldn't exchange husbands."

After the family matters had been straightened out Mrs. Hardy began to comfort her husband in his despair. It was at this time that the good news had come that Marion Hardy had been nominated to the state legislature. Later, Mr. Stubbins, the Judge's campaign manager played by Leo Menelice, and Wayne Trenton, came rushing in to congratulate the Judge on his nomination to the state supreme court. These two through a political machination had satisfied the federal men in their desire and at the same time absolved the Judge from responsibility. The federal men in turn placed their support and influence behind the Judge and insured his nomination and election.

Everything had then ended for the best with the exception of Marion's lost romance. But Grandpa Hardy, played by Robert Sprague, had come in to play a telling hand. Through some wise counsel and presentation of a traditional gift of wedding slippers, which he had made by hand, he weakened Marion's exterior Young Trenton had come in at the proper moment and the difficulties between them were straightened out.

Paris Well Played

Much of the comedy and laughter in the play was provided by Lyle Koach, who plays the role of Andy, the youngest in the family and a high school student. He was the typical American boy who had new clothes and objected to the members of the family making a handy man of him. He also showed that he had aid his family in the time of a crisis.

The role of political campaign manager seemed to be made to order for Leo Menelice, who was a personification of importance and dignity. Miss Daugherty, as the kind, tender, loving and devoted Aunt Mary, was completely enveloped in her character and deserves much praise for her performance.

Miss Jones delighted the audience with her portrayal of Mrs. Hardy as the typical American housewife of the old school, who showed every ability on how to run her family and gave some sound advice to her daughters.

Miss Lemery and Joe Hasbach provided the necessary and yet different type of romance. They fitted into their parts like a glove, as did William Tinker. If it had not been for the programs Robert Sprague could not have been distinguished much from Grandpa Hardy.

The high school orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Paul Winter provided some excellent music between acts. Just before the last act, President Mathey Buzard in behalf of the class thanked the local merchants and people and the several class committees for their contributions, time, and effort in making the affair a success. He also expressed their appreciation to the directors.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

This improvement of drainage will mean a great convenience to the small community. Every heavy rainfall washed stones and soil from Maple street down on Elmwood in recent years. The work which has been in progress, is designed to alleviate this condition.
